

StopIt Anonymous Reporting System

A Safe Way for Students to Speak Up

St. Thomas Aquinas High School uses the StopIt anonymous reporting system to give students a safe and accessible way to report concerns and help keep our school community safe.

What Can Students Report?

Students can use the StopIt app to report concerns such as:

- Bullying, harassment, or threats
- Fighting or unsafe behavior
- Concerns about a student's well-being
- Self-harm or suicide concerns
- Drugs, weapons, or other safety concerns
- Vandalism or inappropriate activity
- Anything else that makes them feel unsafe or concerned

How Does It Work?

Students access StopIt through the StopIt app on their phone or device.

Reports can be submitted anonymously, giving students an option to speak up without having to identify themselves.

When appropriate, students may also be able to communicate with designated school personnel through the system to provide additional information or answer follow-up questions.

A Message for Parents

Please encourage your child to speak up if they see or hear something that could affect the safety or well-being of themselves or another student.

Remind your child that reporting a concern is an act of caring and responsibility—not “snitching.” Sharing information can help school personnel address problems before they become more serious. StopIt is an additional reporting option and does not replace speaking directly with a trusted adult when a student needs help.

If there is an immediate threat or emergency, call 911 or seek immediate assistance from a trusted adult rather than relying on the StopIt app.
