

*If parents are separated and both still retain legal custody, both parents must sign. If children are in foster home and placement is by agency that holds custody, agency must sign.