

What is a School-Parent Compact?

A School-Parent Compact for Achievement is an agreement that parents, students, and teachers develop together. It explains how parents and teachers will work together to make sure all our students reach grade-level standards.

Effective Compacts:

- Link to goals of the school improvement plan
- Focus on student learning skills
- Describe how teachers will help students develop those skills using high-quality instruction
- Share strategies parents can use at home
- Explain how teachers and parents will communicate about student progress
- Describe opportunities for parents to volunteer, observe, and participate in the classroom

Jointly Developed

The parents, students and staff of Long Cane Elementary School developed this School-Parent Compact for Achievement. Teachers suggested home learning strategies, parents added ideas to make them more specific, and students told us what would help them learn. Meetings are held each year to review the compact and make changes based on student needs.

Parents are welcome to contribute comments at any time.

If you would like to volunteer, participate and/or observe in the classroom, please contact

Teachers, Parents, Students - Together for Success

In the Third Grade Classroom

The Third Grade classroom will work with students and their families to support students' success in reading and math. Some of our key connections with families will be:

Teachers will send home weekly reading passages to improve fluency and comprehension.

Teachers will send home relevant math exercises that correlate with classroom learning.

Teachers will also send home parent letters to help explain concepts for families to help support their child's learning.

Parents will help their children complete weekly reading comprehension passages.

Parents will help their children complete weekly math practice pages.

Parents will read letters sent home by teachers and ask questions if they do not understand a concept.

LCES Students

Long Cane Elementary School students joined staff and parents to develop ideas about how they can succeed in school and reach for the stars in math and reading. Students thought of the following ideas to make connections between learning at home and school:

Students will complete weekly reading weekly comprehension practice.

Students will complete weekly math practice.

Students will give their parents the letters sent home from their teachers to explain concepts they are learning in school.

Additional Key Points for Success

- Go to bed on time.
- Arrive at school by 7:30 to eat breakfast
