

UNIVERSAL DESIGN FOR LEARNING

Join us for an immersive one-day, face-to-face workshop on Universal Design for Learning (UDL), developed by the Texas Education Agency. Through real-world scenarios, examples, and collaborative activities, participants will explore sample lessons and gain practical insights into effectively applying UDL strategies. Don't miss this opportunity to deepen your understanding and refine your skills in designing environments that promote meaningful access for all students that will spark excitement and curiosity for learning, support tackling challenges with focus and determination, and harness the power of emotions and motivation in learning.
