James:

James was a former student at 666 high school. He and Qu1nn 7331 were best friends, but they hated Guest 1337. He would pick one James and Qu1nn 7331. One day, Qu1nn 7331 decided to put up a fight with Guest 1337. James helped Qu1nn 7331, together they beat up Guest 1337. Qu1nn 7331 felt good and due to his anger he left James by himself.

Qu1nn 7331:

Qu1nn 7331 was bff's with James and Guest 666. After school Qu1nn 7331 punched Noob, Guest 666 got mad and snapped Qu1nn 7331's neck. He fell to the floor and left. James came and looked at him, he was different. James ran away. The next day he ran back and he was gone.

More coming soon:

Prologue:

Two time had found a note written by someone he saw here and there. Two Time , read the note. The note said:

I, James just got in the cabin but a round had started in the dev team. He did not know what to do as he was just teased just the last day. The moveset was weird but he was just a test. As he got in a round with other devs he saw something a little too scary… A JASON MILESTONE 4! He knew he was cooked but just to know he's way too over powered so I don't know how this will play out. After a minute two people were back in the cabin. Oh god… how good are they??? Jason wasn't in the game anymore because he was replaced by slasher… anyway he knew he might be in lms(last man standing) he had a bloxy cola…. Lms just started. Until Jason came up kinda close he did not use the cola. But once he did he stunned the killer. He was unfair so the stun did 25 seconds long when it's supposed to do 5 seconds that round he survived. He saw everyone else in the cabin… chance… two Time…. 007n7…. Dusekkar. Even a swat officer standing with his flash bangs trying to help the survivors. Note from: James

Forsaken

Two groups of people, killers and survivors.(Hi I am the narrator for this Forsaken story about the groups, my name is BloxburgNewsReporterGuy, I will tell the story as your narrator.) The killer's goal is to kill the survivors. The survivors goal is to survive the killers. Enjoy a story of pure violents, core, and darkness. Let's get into it.

"Ugh, are you guys ready for the next match because, well im always" Chance said. "We all are, duh" Everyone said. They all just talked and stuff. Five minutes later the TV turned on "Get to the arena." They all walk to the arena. The killer of this match is the one who loves necks… Qu1nn 7331. Chance and Two Time go to the corner to gamble and do rituals. Noob does generators with Eliot. Guest 1337, well he went to the middle to hit Qu1nn 7331." It's your tern Qu1nn 7331" said Guest 1337. Then out of nowhere a sharp pane filled Guest 1337. Guest hits Qu1nn 7331 but Qu1nn 7331 steps on Guest 1337's back as Guest 1337 falls to the floor with a broken back. "Agen" said Qu1nn 7331 as he reached down for his neck; SNAP! He broke his neck leaving him there "One down, 7 more to go HAHAHA" said Qu1nn 7331.

"Hurry up, Qu1nn 7331 is coming." Said Chance, "Go on your own." Said Two Times. "Fine!" Qu1nn 7331 heard that as Chance books it out to Noob and Eliot. Qu1nn 7331 does not see him and grabs Two Time "AHAHA, your mine." CRACK! Neck brakes and falls to the floor. "AHAHAHAA! Neck, necks, necks." Said Qu1nn 7331 and ran off to get someone else. He runs to the nearest generation."We meat agen… Chance" Qu1nn 7331 lifts him in the air and decapitates him. "Who is next!" Qu1nn 7331 jumps out the window killing himself.

BEEERRR! The round ended. James runs out of the cabin trying to escape the torcher. Shledsky follows him. They run to the boat dock to swim to the other island. There is a helicopter there ready to take off. As we went to the edge of the boat we both knew that we had to do the same thing over again. But Shledsky saw that James was not up cutting Eliot and Noob's life apart "3 left" Qu1nn 7331 said. 007n7 jumps out of an ok. He knew h would be the killer next. Shledsky told James before he was killed that "it's ok for this to happen. I'm just glad to see you. Hope you do well next round …" Said Shledsky "NO!" James said "THERE WON'T BE A NEXT ROUND. I'M DONE WITH THIS MESS. I'M DONE WITH THIS LIFE." James jumped into the sea swimming to the next island. "James above you!" Shledsky said. James looked up in front of him; 1x1x1x1x flew down and hovered in front of the water. "James, do you know what you are doing?" 1x said in a deep voice "You will have to be exiled." Said 1x "1x, please no I… I…" 1x grabbed him by the throat and said "DIE!" "No, do not perish him, for he does not deserve it." Noli said. "I said put him down! 1x drops him into the water "We do not kill people just like that!" While the two killers bicker James finds his way to the island. He boards the copter. Noli sees and yells "HEY, 1x BLOW IT UP!"

1x uses his mass infection and the copter crashed into the island. The copter exploded into bits of ash and mettle.

Two Time

Later, I found myself in the Forsaken Dev Team, Stuck, ready for a match I thought… Five minutes go by as more people enter the cabin. We have been brought here for one reason, survival. Another minute went by As more people were brought in, I talked to them and got to know some of the survivors. One person, Chance, a kind gambler, shared about how he kept getting 777; on the other hand, Shledsky, he was talking about his time as a pizza delivery guy. Then, there is me. Two Time. I believe in an afterlife so I think this will give me a chance at winning. 1 minute left till the match starts. There are 7 contestants today. As we were forced into the arena, I saw binary. 1s and 0s everywhere around him. Jon Doe. We were placed into our spots and the round began. Our goal is to survive and do generators. The killer has to kill us to win. We have been brought here just for entortanmint. But to us, survival. I walk around trying to find Jon Doe to back stab him. Suddenly I see big spikes in a row reeking of binary. When I saw Gust 1337 died. Blood gushing everywhere. Ahh! All fades to black. My life flashes before my eyes. And I'm back where I started.

"Chance! Jump!" I yelled but it was too late. He… was… murdered. I fell to my knees. Chance falls to the ground, I remember Jon Doe, it's not him doing it, it's his corruption. He's M3, one of the strongest milestones. Ahhh I feel a slash hit me right in the back. I ron in excruciating pane to Shledsky. Jon Doe follows but i turn and stab in the gut. The match is over. 4 people died in the match. But me, Two Time, Shledsky, and noob. We are survivors.

Jason

Here I am captured and brought to prison. I always listen to my mom. She guides me. I get called down to the front. They shoved me into a van and drove me off. My mom is in the front seat. I'm chained in. We arrive here in Forsaken as I'm put in another sell. They gear me up with knives and other weapons. I hear people walk in. My sales are basic. Stale bread and a stone bench. The round begins. Chanse runs across in the clearing winning 777; I follow him. I don't want to kill anyone but my mom tells me to. So I obey. I have more stamina than him so I am catching up. I whip out a katana but Guest 1337 hits me off my feet. They get away. I run till I spot a noob at the top of a building. I ran up but noob used a potion slate skin and jumped off. I jump off to; slate skin is heavy so noob is slow. It wears off. I grab him, turn him around and jap a blade up in him. I threw the knife and dropped him.

Elliot threw his pizza at me trying to get my attention. I look back and throw a machete at him. It gets stuck in his back but is still partially alive. My moms said “do it” on the speaker so I did. I run over and step on him pulling the machete out of his back. He has died. Dusekker was healing Chance, I sneaked over and grabbed Dusekker. I stabbed him through the neck. But before that he hit me in the face with his staff. 3 down, 4 to go. Sweat drips from my head. It wasn't swet, but blood. It was from Dusekker hitting my head. That won't stop me. But by then, the round ended. 3 less people here. I'm putting in my sell till the next match. Though i thought. The next match started but 1x1x1x1x was brought out, not me.

c00lkidd

Raised and grew up at 007n7. Ready for a game of Forsaken. “By 007n7. I'm on my own” I am c00lkidd. Ready for a game, please join me @ #Join Team c00lkidd Today. “Yay round is starting! Hi Ellit, have some pizza." My minions chase Elliot holding pizza boxes. SNAP! Elliot's head rolls toward my feet “Hehe, night night.” Chance a fellow gambler, he wins 777 all day long. “MY EYES! Get back here” I chased him around into a corner. I beat him up, blood gushed out of his mouth.”night night, ahaha, this is fun!” I spot Gest 1337 hiding next to 007n7. I ran over and threw a cinderblock at Gest 1337. I shove 007n7 away to get Gest 1337. He broke his arm from it. I dash over and beat him up. “007n7, your tern” I hide behind a corner and I summon my minions to kill him. I look back and there is pizza on the floor. “Ahh” 007n7 stabbed me as the timer ran out. I survie a lot but it still hurt.

“007n7!!!! It's you come!” but I was brought back to my sell. Jon Doe was giving off more binary than ever. M4. The survivors walk back but the ones I put to sleep aren't. I thought this was a game. I killed them!(This is all in his mind) Well we will see if they come out. “Ugh, i hate this sell” The next match there all died if Jon Doe comes out.

Chance

“Come on spade, i’m going to the casino to get a big 777 on the rigid slot, want to come? Oh, right you're a rabbit, well come on.” As I drive to the casino I spot the guy who is hunting me, I duck down so he does not see me. (Look at the lore of chance to understand more. I'll put the lore at the top next year so y'all can understand or go to the Forsaken Wiki.) I drive past with eez. CRASH! I hit the person in front of me. He stopped at a red light. I quickly backed up and drove off so i did not have to pay the money on him, ill just buy a new car. I get to the casino and find a slot no one was at. I started but someone grabbed me and pulled me back. They threw me into the back of the van. The van starts moving. I hear them talking about something called Forsaken. Then they laugh. The van comes to a sudden stop as they pull me out. They tape my mouth shut. I get thrown in a log cabin; the door slams shut as Two Time pulls the tap of. “Where are we?” I asked and Two times said “Forsaken.” More people come in not by choosing but by force. We are brought to the arena and pleased in our spot.

The round begins and I see binary and a corrupted body. Two Time does a ritual and tells me that it is Jon Doe M4 then he runs off. I follow when Jon Doe uses corrupted energy killing Two Time, no time to show motions, I ran by. My foot was grabbed and I fell to the ground. “Ahh” Jon Doe sliced my back open but Two Time back stabbed Jon Doe, I got enough time to get out Two Time was killed to save me. I found a ball pit and jumped inside. Someone pulled me out; “Two Time?” He said no time to explain and ran off, I followed and he did a generator, so I did too. All the generators have been fixed and Jon Doe lost. Two Time he told me he was M4. I have no clue what that means. (M4=Milstone 4) We walked back to the cabin and fed stale breaks and water. A small stake too. “Spade, Spade, noooooo!”

James:

“Hey Qu1nn 7331 help, it’s Guest 666” I said. “Coming” said Qu1nn 7331. Together we beat up Guest 1337. The next day at school he was not there, or the next. Day after day he did not come. Qu1nn 7331 was sick today I think so he will be here tomorrow. The next day Guest 666 killed Qu1nn 7331 on the sidewalk. “He will pay.” I said. I looked down and he wasn't the same, he looked different. I ran away. DINGGG the bell went. I went to see if Qu1nn 7331 was still there and now he’s gone! A van pulled up and kidnapped me. “MOM!” I yelled “HELP!” And that's how I'm here, in Forsaken. “This place has a cat and pezza, a free home.” But the other people weren't so excited, they told me it's a loop. You live, you die, and your back, agen and agen. The round started.

“Noob, is that you??” I said in shock “Yes, RUN!” Yelled Noob. I run, I don't know where to go so I follow behind. Then I saw Qu1nn 7331. How did he survive that, he has a crooked neck, twisted head. No time to think. Noob yells “COME ON!” We ran up the tower. We were too slow, Qu1nn 7331 snagged Noob and yelled “And now, this ends”. Qu1nn 7331 rips Noobs head of “Haha your next James” I jump down and run into Taph. “Move!” He throws a sub space mine. Qu1nn 7331 grabs it and throws it at Taph, I rump but it hits Taph; he explodes. “No no no, not me.” I said. He runs up to me, grabs me, shoving his claws into me back. I get thrown into Chance. “Hey, watch iiiiiiiit!” Qu1nn 7331 stomps on him, breaking his back and falling to the floor. He reaches down and grabs his neck. “Bye bye” Said Qu1nn 7331 snapping his neck. CRACK. I book it down the pit and land hard. Qu1nn 7331 jumps one. “AHHHH!” I scream, my back broke “Your mine now…” Qu1nn 7331 said. He grabs my neck and lifts me up into the air. I suffocate; he lifts me into the air and pulls me apart. At the end the game master brings everyone back to life. Life here is an infinite loop.

Veronica

As being a new reporter before making it into forsaken I'm sure this place is a nightmare. But now I'm a skater and I teach noob how to skate. He has been acting strange while teaching him like he is sad but i give him pockies and he feels better. If he gets hurt I help him get up but if he gets hurt badly then i call 911 but im sure that will never happen. Once seeing guest 666 because noob talked alot about him I was terrified as he jumped at me but before dodging and him chasing me I put up graffiti. So I could jump off the wall so I could run away from the guest 666. He went for Elliott. I have my graffiti ability not on cooldown so I used it on guest 666 and I burned his eyes. Hopefully I saved Elliot and now he's safe. We won the match. Were brought back. CREEAAK. A loud screeching sound.I made my escape! Blazing killers behind me! I jump. “AHHHHH!” an excruciating pane tears down my back. Blood, blood stained ground, red water. I grab my skateboard and hit Noli. 1x lunges, so does Guest 666. They crash into each other mid air. Slasher swings and misses. I call out, the others come. But Qu1nn 7331 thinks otherwise, bringing them back. I am Veronica.

I told him about the cult but never told him they suck... I'm part of it but I'm not serious about it. They make you sacrifice someone for a second life. "I'm just making a gift for my friend". Wait what AHHHHH- (Everything is black) Im sorry Azure but its for my second life... said Two Time.

The deep blue sea

Chapter 1

The first discovery

Once a long time ago there were two boys exploring the deep blue sea, turbo and mario. One day while exploring the deep blue sea Turbo and Mario saw something strange. “Um…. Turbo what is that?” Mario said. “I don’t know, I've never seen anything like that,” Turbo said to Mario. Then they explored deeper in the sea and saw many strange and unusual creatures. “I have never heard of any of these creatures,” said Turbo.

Then they saw a figure that was green and slimy. It had tentacles that were 10 times the size of them. They got closer and closer. “Turbo I don't think this is a good idea” Mario said to Turbo. “We will be fine” said Turbo “ok whatever you say Turbo” Mario says. So they kept following it. “Look,” Mario shouted out, “It’s his layer”. “Come on” Turbo says to Mario “We can find more about this creature”. So they went on.

“Oo he eats giant squid,” Turbo says.

“I’m not sure that's a good thing,” Mario says.

The creature sneaks up behind the two heading back to his layer. “Turbo” Mario steps back onto the creature tentacle. Mario gets stuck on the tentacles. “RUN!” Turbo says grabbing Mario and getting out of its cave. Phanting, Mario says “We could have died because of your stupid idea!” “AT LEAST WE GOT OUT” Turbo shouts. “Yelling is not going to help” Mario says, trying to calm Turbo down.

“Ok ok I’ll calm down but we need to explore more and tell the scientists." Turbo says. “Now let’s get out of here”

“Yes but we need to be careful.” Mario goes and says “And no more going into their cave/layer thingy”.

They explore more and more and find a lot of interesting objects and creatures.

Chapter 2
Mysterious creatures

Turbo and Mario explore deeper and deeper in the deep blue sea. Then they find themself In a in a dark cave with shark and whale skeletons. They try to run but the creature comes back. “Mario, you were right.” Turbo sighs “We never should have gone into any caves” “Too late it's probably gonna eat us in one bite” Mario says. “At least it will be with you”. “Don’t give up just yet” says Turbo. “I have a plan”.

“Frist we will hit its eye and stab its fin”. “Then, we get out,” Turbo says.

“Now let’s go” Turbo says while they are running for their lives.

As they get out they get kidnaped by a mermaid. “AAH” they say. They mutter and pass out. They wake up and the mermaid hits them to make them fall back asleep. A few minutes later "Finally you're awake” The mermaid says. “Let-Let us out,” Turbo says. The mermaid grabs a sharp seashell “Don’t ask any questions, got it? Now come on I need to show you where you're going to be staying” The mermaid says as she leads them to a clearing of seaweed with fish

The Haunted Hotel

Characters:

- Kreg – blonde hair, blue eyes (from his mom).
- Meggan – blonde hair, brown eyes (from her dad).
- Mom & Dad – the heroes alongside Kreg and Meggan.
- Shadow – a tall, black figure with glowing red eyes.
- Breath – blind, but can hear every breath from 6–50 feet away.

Chapter 1 – The Entrance

Kreg and his family arrived at the old hotel, dragging their bags inside.
"Room for four people?" Dad asked.

The front desk clerk scowled and shoved a key toward him. "Room 12," he said in a cold, grumpy voice.

"Thanks," Dad muttered, trying to stay polite.

"But… where's the door out of this lobby?" Meggan whispered.

Dad asked, and the clerk slowly lifted a bony finger, pointing toward a tall, crooked door. Without saying another word, the clerk turned his back.

The family hurried down dim hallways, weaving past doors and broken furniture. Something about the place felt wrong—like the walls were listening.

Chapter 2 – The Room

They finally reached their room. Dad shoved the key into the lock—but it didn't budge. He squinted at the number on the door.

"Room 11," he muttered.

They rushed farther down the hallway until they found the right door. The lock clicked, and they stumbled inside, falling onto the four beds lined up in a row.

The room was surprisingly fancy, with velvet curtains and golden lamps.

"How much did this cost?" Kreg asked.

"Only $13.24," Dad said.

"That's cheap!" Meggan exclaimed, comparing it to the $267.50 she had saved.

Mom shushed everyone. "Enough. Get some rest."

The family drifted off to sleep… until morning came, when a loud crash shook the walls. A tall bookshelf had toppled over near the door.

Chapter 3 – The Loud Sound

No one wanted to leave the room now. But after hours of sitting in silence, boredom pushed them into the hallway.

The fallen bookshelf had smashed halfway through the floor. The wood beneath looked thin, like paper.

"This doesn't feel safe," Kreg said.

Meggan and Mom nodded nervously, but Dad just brushed them off, staring blankly at the ceiling as if in a daze.

Meggan smacked his arm hard. "Wake up, Dad!"

He blinked, snapped out of it, and hurried back inside with them, slamming the door shut.

Chapter 4 – The Running

That night, Kreg and Meggan woke with pounding hearts. Their parents were still asleep, but the kids were no longer in bed.

They were in a long, endless hallway.

A shadowy figure with burning red eyes stood at the far end.

"Run!" Meggan gasped.

They sprinted, but every time they turned a corner, the figure appeared in front of them, teleporting closer and closer.

Their lungs burned, their legs shook—but the hallway never ended.

Suddenly, they jolted awake in their beds. But something was different.

Their room was no longer on the first floor. The number on the wall read 46.

Chapter 5 – The Silent Moment

This time, when the floor beneath them gave way, they fell through the "paper" ground into a massive, dusty library.

A tall figure stood in the shadows—Breath.

It turned its head sharply. Its empty eyes stared at nothing, but its ears twitched at the sound of their landing.

Kreg and Meggan scrambled up a bookshelf as Breath charged, slamming into the wood. Books rained down around them.

They leapt down, hitting the floor as silently as possible. Breath snarled, swinging its head, listening.

The children ducked into a narrow closet, holding their breath. Breath thrashed through the shelves, searching, searching…

Would it hear them?

Kreg and Meggan would never forget that night. Somehow, they and their family escaped the cursed hotel. Shadow and Breath were left behind, locked in the dark hallways where they belonged.

No one else ever learned how the family made it out alive.

But every time Kreg lay in bed, he swore he could still hear heavy footsteps… and the sound of breathing.

EVIL IN DISGUISE

Lina was a happy 10-year-old girl who lived in a bright blue house with her dad. One night, she smiled and said, "Nothing can go wrong."

She was wrong.

The Scary Night

Lina was sleeping peacefully when she heard a loud noise.
THUMP. THUMP. THUMP.

She froze. The sound was coming from the hallway. Her heart beat fast. She crawled under her pink bed and held her breath.

CREEEAK.
The door opened slowly.

Lina saw something scary—gray claws reaching into her room. The creature looked around, then walked away.

Lina ran down the hallway, yelling, "Dad!"

Her dad sat up and said, "Lina, you're too old to wake me up at night."

"But there's a monster!" she cried.

Her dad laughed. "There's no such thing as monsters!"

Suddenly, the gray claws grabbed him! He started choking.

"Run!" he shouted.

Lina ran down the stairs, crying. She grabbed a knife from the kitchen. She knew the monster wasn't gone.

Face to Face

A creepy song started playing.
"Oh little girl," the voice said, "come out, come out, wherever you are..."

Lina saw a tall lady walk through the door. Her teeth were sharp, and her eyes were glowing. Lina pointed the knife at her, but she was too scared to fight.

She saw an open window. It was high up, but she had to escape. She jumped!

She hit the ground hard and hurt her leg. Limping through the dark, she remembered a nurse who lived nearby. Lina banged on the door.

"Please help me!" she cried.

The nurse saw her injuries and let her in. "Come in. I'll help you."

Lina felt safe. But it wasn't over.

Run!

The nurse went into the back room. It got quiet.

"Miss?" Lina called.

BANG. BANG. BANG.

"Yes?" the nurse said.

"Oh... I thought you were... gone."

The nurse laughed strangely. "Why would I be gone?"

Lina looked at her hands. Her nails were long and gray. It was the monster!

"Can I go to the closet to get clothes?" Lina asked.

"Of course," the nurse said.

Lina ran to the closet and slammed the door. She whispered, "I'm done running."

She grabbed a metal rod. She was ready to fight.

The Final Battle

Lina came back. "You're not human!" she shouted. "You're a monster!"

The lady growled. "Take that back!"

"No! You hurt my parents!"

"Apologize... or else."

"1... 2..."

The lady grew bigger and scarier.

"3!"

Lina ran to an old factory nearby. She slammed the doors behind her. She grabbed a bat and tiptoed through the dark.

CRASH!
The monster jumped out. Lina hit her in the eye.

"ARGH!"

Lina ran to a big machine. The monster chased her. Lina stood in front of the belt. When the monster got close, Lina jumped out of the way.

The monster fell onto the belt.

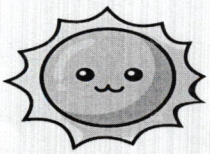

Lina pulled the lever.

The machine started. The monster grabbed Lina's ankle.

"Help me!" the monster cried.

"Let go!" Lina shouted and kicked her.

CRUNCH.
The monster was gone.

A New Beginning

Two workers came in. "What are you doing here? Where are your parents?"

"I don't have parents anymore," Lina said.

They took her to an orphanage. It was safe.

Or was it?

LOCKER #13

BY: LILAN WALKER

I asked to switch lockers,I asked to move schools, I even asked to not have a locker. I was desperate because this locker gave me awful luck.

By the way my name is Mary. I have straight blonde hair,blue eyes and I'm 17 years old. I love to read and write. I live in Savannah, Georgia. I am also on the soccer team soon to be kicked out.

Some of the things my locker does to me are I get really bad grades, I am now really clumsy, I don't have any friends, and when I'm there it just doesn't feel right. I hate this locker.

You're probably thinking well why can't you just wait until you get a different locker assigned? Well every year I get that locker assigned to me. You're probably thinking, well why can't you just wait until you're out of school and don't have a locker? No, no I can't, I'm in an endless time loop. What do I mean by that well I mean that every time I graduate I go back to my first day of 6th grade. Your'e probably thinking, are you going to die like this? Well I don't know, I think I get younger when I loop but I'm not quite sure.

Tomorrow is graduation day and I know I'm going to get flowers that my cat is going to eat. It was the day of my loop back in time. I wouldn't say it hurt but it felt really uncomfortable when I looped. I knew I had to do something.

I often wondered if everyone was in a time loop because of me. No time to wonder. I had to think of what to do and fast. The last things I saw were my dad's black hair and glasses of an author, my mom's blonde hair and blue eyes just like mine she's a teacher, and my grandma's gray hair light brown eyes she was pretty skinny she had retired. It was too late,I looped back to my first day of 6th grade.

I remember it like yesterday, oh wait it's today. I came up with something! I would ask the teacher, Mrs. Bagart to have another locker other than #13, that would freak her out enough to agree! Mrs. Bagart said no and she yelled at me for "looking at her papers". It made me so mad, I had to think of a plan b.

I got it,I would make a friend so that they would give me their locker! Such a good plan right. Not. Who would willingly make friends with me, the girl who is unlucky, and if they do to give me their locker! Anyway I got a friend whose name is Terry Daniels. She's the worst friend you can get. She is always bragging about how she's better than everyone, she's always teasing and bullying other people, she lies all the time, and anyway she won't give me her locker.

I went home to my mom (my dad was still working). I went to my room to read but I couldn't focus. I kept thinking about my locker and what to do. This was my 3rd time looping after all!

It was a Saturday, I woke up at about 8:00. I had a pretty good day (the best you can have with a locker that brings you bad luck). It was nearing nighttime my mom, Elizabeth and my dad, Henry, told me that they wanted me to go to therapy because I was acting weird and I was stressed all the time. I started to protest but thought it wouldn't be half bad to surprise the therapist with my special case.

The next Wednesday I went to the therapist. The building said "Tonya & Taro's Therapy". It was cool and smelled good like strawberries. I went to room 13 and sat in a black leather chair. There was a man in the chair across from me. He was fairly skinny with curly orange hair and turquoise eyes.

"Hello my name is Mr. Taro, what's your name?" he asked quietly.

"Mary. What's your first question?" I asked louder than him.

"Tell me Mary, were you assigned locker number 13?" Mr. Taro said louder than usual.

"Um-yes how did you know?" I asked in shock.

"In due time, in due time," he replied rather shortly.

"Mary, how old are you really?" he asked rather calmly for the situation. Then counting the years I was shocked as I realized I was 35!

"I-I-I'm 35!!" I yelled.

"I can help you, you just have to listen." he replied with a sorry face. I decided in a second I would listen to all he had to say.

"I'll listen to what you have to say, what do you have in mind?" I managed to ask calmly.

"Alright it looks like our time is up,see you next Wednesday," he managed to say normally.

I thought all night about it. It was then I realized that this had never happened before. Everyone always does the same things. What about the time loop?

I had another bad day at school, F's on everything. When I got home my mom yelled at me because of that. Also I had a new friend Brittany. I told her to stay away but she wouldn't. Well we went to my locker and a huge bottle of soda fizzed out and landed all over her.

"I could never have a friend like you. I trusted you, I wanted to be friends with you!"

I went home, had a snack, sat down, and did my homework. That night I slept soundly knowing that it would all be fixed soon. The next week I went to therapy happily. My parents were glad about that. I went back to room 13 and sat down in the clean room.

"Alright so you want to fix it, correct,"Mr. Taro said, getting to the point faster than I expected.

"Yes now how do I fix it I want to know this locker is torture!" I screamed.

"I had it when I was a kid, and your parents told me when I asked, that's how I knew,"

"So listen," Mr. Taro continued. "If you want to fix it you have to go to your locker at a school event such as a play, dance, party, etc," he told me.

"Ok so I just go to the Candy Dance?" I asked, thinking that this was going to be easy.

"Sure, just make sure that you do a special combination." There was a pause when I waited for him to continue.

"That's all I can tell you, a special combination," he said.

"WHAT, A SPECIAL COMBINATION?!!" I screamed angrily.

"I really am sorry but the locker still even now forbids me from telling you the numbers even now." he said truthfully.

"Alright, alright but I still have one more question," I told him, calming down.

"I'm sorry but I'm afraid we're out of time." Mr Taro stated.

"Ok, ok see you next week," I said, completely calmed down now. My mom picked me up. All I could think about all Thursday was therapy with Mr. Taro.

On Friday though my locker sabotaged me when a teacher tried to praise me for helping someone. My locker had work with F's on them in the corner all ripped. Then the teacher told my mom and yelled at me. All weekend I did my homework, read, and wrote but I couldn't focus because of my thoughts. Thursday was the day of the dance but I still didn't know what he meant by a "special combination". "Would this really work, I mean it does have good chances to at least,maybe. Today was therapy but I still didn't understand completely. Why is therapy happening now? I got to therapy went to room #13 and realized what the number meant, it meant that this might actually work! I sat down very confident.

Then Mr. Taro wasted no time in saying “What was your question Mary?”

“My question was why, why now I’ve never done this therapy before, what about the time loop?” I asked still confidently.

“Oh, I knew you would ask that. 3 is in 13 right so if it’s your 10th or 3rd year looping as you call it you have a chance to escape your locker,” he said normally but it still sounded scary to me because of what it meant.

“What, do you mean to say that I only have 2 chances to try the combination or else…” I didn’t finish the sentence, it was too awful to say.

“Yes that’s unfortunately true,” Mr. Taro said depressed.

“Ok that was my only question,” I said kind of worried.

“Bye I give you my luck!” Mr. Taro said hopefully.Therapy then ended.

The next day I went to the dance. Brittany sneered at me and I got the punch bowl dumped on me by Charlie. Then when everyone was dancing I snuck out. I finally got to locker #13. This time my locker knew what I was doing, stuck out a tongue and tried to catch me and eat me! But no, I wouldn't let the locker eat me. So I went to the knob and tried to turn it anyway. Being very hopeful I then turned the knob to the numbers 1,2,3,4. “NO NO NO!!” The sound scared me half to death. The locker was screaming and crying.

The next day I was somewhere very odd! I looked in the mirror on the wall and realized that I looked 35 my real age! I decided to go out of the room. At least I knew the combination worked! I got out of the room and realized where I was, I was in "Tonya & Taro's Therapy"! I went to room 13 and saw Mr. Taro,a reassuring sight.

"Ah, right on time," Mr. Taro said sadly.

"What's going on?" I asked calmly, thinking it would be easy to get out of this place.

"Well um let's make this simple me you and Tonya are all stuck here unless we find out how to escape which is almost impossible to my understanding," Mr. Taro said, looking down.

"Oh no, but I need to get free and live my life. I just got away from my locker! Wait, why aren't there others?" I asked, surprised it was just them.

"Well in this world you can die of old age that's why you are currently 35," he said, helpless to do anything else.

"But is there any way you know that might even almost save us?" I asked hoping the answer would be yes.

"Well Mary I've done research and um yes there is a way that might just save us but I still don't know for sure," Mr. Taro replied.

"I really do want to know. What is it?" I asked him, hopeful he would be right about the plan.

"Well we have to escape not through the doors or windows and you're the only person yet who has been able to go through the doors to get to the exterior door except Clarissa," he said sadly.

I started to say “Who’s-”

Mr. Taro then exclaimed, "OF COURSE… SHE WAS THE THIRD… AND YOU'RE TENTH!! GO GO GO, AND ESCAPE FROM HERE NOW!”

I ran away all the way to a wall when I realized I couldn’t break it! I was stuck here with Mr. Taro.

ONE MONTH LATER…

A kid came to our therapy office and to my surprise a miracle happened. He had a hammer with him for some weird reason. He told me it made him stronger and happy because it reminded him of his dad. So that’s why he always had it with him on the weekends (His therapy was on the weekends). To my surprise again he told me that I could use it. I slammed it into the wall of Mr. Taro’s office, as hard as I could! Then Ms. Tonya’s and we all escaped from the place together. Then we all went back to different years to our different 6th grades. The principals all around the world (and in Tonya’s and Taro’s time) destroyed all locker #13’s. I then lived a perfect life. I got a husband and two children.

Scared Batty

Once upon a time, there was a bat. When he flew around, he usually didn't get his fair share of bugs because his friends always ate them. One night, he flew into a neighborhood and hung upside down on the end of a roof.

Then, all of a sudden -- "bwahahahahahaha!" It was the grim reaper! The bat was so scared that he fell off his perch, landing hard on the ground – flump! After catching his breath, he flew as fast as he could toward the next house, where he saw… another bat? It was frozen in place and making a most unusual face. He thought that was odd. Suddenly, he heard a devilish cackle - "ah-hah-hah-hahhhhhh!" "Time to go," he thought. He flew off towards the house across the street, searching rapidly for any monsters. Sure enough, there was a zombie. "What should I do," he wondered. He had an idea that surprised even himself. "Break it!" The bat flapped over to the middle of the street to get a flying start and then zoomed toward the zombie. "CRACKALACKACRACK!" The zombie went toppling over. In a little bowl at the center of the porch, there were snacks of all kinds. He gobbled down two little candies and then he was full, because he's a bat. Feeling a little reassured, he pelted toward the next house. There weren't any monsters or such at that house, so he wasn't scared. The bat hung upside down there. Then, "TRICK-OR-TREAT!" It was an army of monsters marching up the steps! A ghost and a goblin, both holding pumpkins full of candy. Behind them was a skeleton that was bigger than the ghost and the goblin put together! It wasn't holding a pumpkin. Then out of the door came a clown, a really big and scary one. "Aaaahhhhh," the bat flew as fast as he could away from the pack of monsters. He flew and flew and flew until he got to a house clear of opponents. He perched on the roof and spied for any more passing monsters. Soon, along came another ghost. "The zombie crash went well," he thought. Speeding toward it and squealing, he flew straight into its face. It screamed, dropped its pumpkin, and ran away. "Mommy, Mommy," it shouted as it ran. He found that quite fun – so fun that he followed it to the part of the neighborhood with more trick-or-treaters. He looked down on the neighborhood in search of the best monster to attack. "Target detected," he said in the most muffled voice he could. He swooped down toward a witch that was sitting down and eating a candy pumpkin. The bat dove, squealing. He pulled up and circled the witch in a spiral until he was close enough to beat his wings at it then, BAM! In a flash of candy and pumpkin, he was sent flying up in the air and landed on the street. When he returned to his conscious state, he found himself inside the pumpkin with a few pieces of candy. The pumpkin was moving. All around him, he would hear a "hahahahahahaha" here and "rawr, rawr!" there. Soon, it all went bright, and he heard a door close. He was indoors. A hand then grabbed him, and he was put on a table. Suddenly he burst out flapping and flew around the house. "I told you it wasn't good to put a bat in the house, dearie!" he heard a woman say. "Open the door, quick," she said. the door opened and he flew out. "Alright," he thought, "this might be a little more exciting than I thought." He landed and stood on his wings on the sidewalk. "Here it comes," he said as Frankenstein started coming right towards him. He sprung up and squealed, swooping right past his stitch-covered green head. "Aaaahh!" he heard. Just then, he crashed into a ghoul. "YIKES," it shouted. He went back up into the sky after that, and just then felt something quite hard on his stomach. He looked down and saw a blue foam stick with an orange cap and noticed he was losing altitude. He landed on a skeleton dog, "CRASH!" it went flying to pieces. Femur here and skull there, rib in the air and neck into the street. "That is one dead skeleton," the bat thought. He looked across the street and saw the fake bat from earlier. He also saw the grim reaper on the porch next to it, and the zombie that he had knocked over, and the candy basket. "Well, this was a strange night," he said to himself, "or at least a strange neighborhood. Let's check and see if other neighborhoods have these weird monsters. I've heard of human holidays… maybe this is one."

The Haunted House

Prologue

A girl named Sofia Gerima woke up and was extremely tired, but it was the last day of school before Halloween Break. Sofia skipped breakfast, Sofia dragged herself to school, but when she saw her best friend, that gave her an idea. Sofia had many friends, she had one best friend. Her best friend's name was Adelynn Iripla. Sofia was 15 and Adelyn was 15 and a half. Sofia wanted to go to a haunted house for halloween and Adelynn agreed to go. They wanted to go to a haunted house that looked like it had been there since 1853 and they heard that people that had gone there at night had never returned. So Sofia and Adelynn asked their parents if they could go for the night. Sofia's mom and Adelynn's mom said "Yes, as long as you survive.", then she winked. Sofia told Adelynn that her mom would be picking them up and would drop them off at the haunted house. Adelynn cheered so loud that Sofia's phone started to shake in her hand. Later that night (9:14PM to be exact) Sofia's mom picked up Adelynn and she brought them to the haunted house. But it would probably cost them their lives.

Drop At The Haunted House

Sofia looked on her phone and said "It says here that the last person was named Gabriella Reil, said she died here in 1967, but before her someone named Mary Tergio had a child. Died in a fire, people say that if you go at night she will rise, she died in the church because of some evil forces or something like that. It also says that this house is called 'The Man Eating House'.". Adelynn smirked and said "Wanna see if we survive?". "Yes I do". For some reason they still wanted to go there for fun. They brought some stuff just in case something bad happened while they were there for the night. When Sofia and Adelynn had got there it looked like floorboards had fallen to the ground when something happened. Adelynn asked Sofia's mom if she could see what happened to the house. Sofia's mom said "It says here that this house had been rebuilt after it had been burned down by a woman because she thought it was haunted." Adelynn was a little scared of that. Adelynn and Sofia checked to see if they had everything. They packed their phones (so they can call 9-1-1 just in case),flashlights (For light in dark spaces/rooms),chips and granola bars (In case they get hungry),water (In case they are thirsty), walkie-talkies (So they can talk to each other from different rooms),sleeping bags, and they packed shoes so they don't get splinters.

In The Haunted House

Once they got in Sofia's mom drove away. It was 9:00PM so they thought it would be more fun if it was nighttime. They were in their pajamas and they had slippers on. Sofia turned on the flashlight and Sofia and Adelynn looked around. They heard whispers saying "Get out of here it's not safe. SHE IS ALWAYS HERE AND NEVER LEAVES". "Whoa, did you hear that?"Sofia said. "Totaly", Adelynn said. "We should split up", "Yeah, we have walkie talkies, food, water, our phones, and basically everything that we would need for a night like this.". Sofia and Adelynn Just then Sofia stopped in her tracks Sofia and Adelynn decided to split up so they could get these whispers out of their heads. Sofia went upstairs. Adelynn went to the basement. From where Sofia was, she saw a white figure standing at the window like it was watching people who dared to come. After 10 seconds she whispered "I brought friends Sofia." The lady turned around as she said Sofia's name. Sofia tried to run away but the ghost lady got her and tied her up. Sofia was knocked out cold.

What Is This?

From Adelynn's point of view, Adelynn saw a large pile of old stuff, it was a bunch of kids' stuff. She searched the pile with her flashlight. Adelynn saw a note, the note said "Check the church that is connected to the back of the house. It is behind the stairs. Elizabeth please go to the church and pray life will be better for you. The reason why we came here was because I saw a woman when you were a baby. The woman said her name was Mary. She said she can improve this house, the church, and said she can make this house become money. She lied to me. She built this house and made it new, then she sued me. Sued me for $15 million. She got granted the $15 million because she spun a story that was completely untrue, but the jury believed her. I had to make sure she stayed out of town so I talked to one of my friends. Her brother handled it. I told her lawyer that she told me that I could take over the house, church, and all. After I took over the house, her spirit was haunting us. She turned the oven on, she burned your favorite teddy bear when you were 9 months old, and she cut my hair when I was sleeping. She is here. I'm sorry I never told you this. Please be safe, and beware of Mary Tergio. - Your sweet mom"

Adelynn was shocked there was a church, but it turns out that Mary Tergio had known this person who wrote the letter! Adelynn pulled out her walkie talkie and said "Sofia this is Adelynn there is a church behind the stairs. I repeat there is a church behind the stairs.", but Adelynn got no response. Adelynn put the note in her pocket, so she can show Sofia the note. But just as Adelynn was going upstairs the door slammed shut and Adelynn heard the door get locked. Adelynn heard cackling from the other side of the door. A voice whispered "I got you both now. If you want to escape and save your friend you must find a key so you can set you and your friend free.". After the voice whispered that, Adelynn thought she was going to never get out, but it turned out... that this was just the beginning of a never ending torture that she will have to escape sooner or later.

Where Is Sofia?

Just then Sofia woke up an hour later she was confused so she tried screaming for help but Sofia remembered that Adelynn was in the basement! Sofia was trying different ways to set herself free. She tried grabbing her backpack. It was too far. Sofia tried scooting across the floor to get her backpack. Then Sofia couldn't open it! Sofia tried using her teeth and it did not work... Sofia thought for a while and she thought, and thought, and thought. Then she got it! She could try to untie the ropes with her hands by herself. She tried. It was dark, the moon was shining, making light through the window. Sofia tried, and tried, and tried. She got one knot out but that one was just a simple one. She had more knots to go before she was even halfway done to getting herself free. She was tired, and she felt like she was going to get caught by the thing that trapped her.

It Came Back

Meanwhile Adelynn was thinking of a way to get out of there. Then the voice came back. The strange voice sounded angry. Like the thing on the other side had another form, something on the other side was calm but sounded ready to attack her. If all means necessary. The voice on the other side said "Your little friend is out cold. But now you just have a key to find. I will give 30 minutes to find the key. If you don't then you will be stuck here forever.". Adelynn was scared to her core. Autumn was so scared that her soul left her body. Adelynn quickly looked inside her backpack and pulled out a flashlight. She searched and searched and searched. 20 minutes later the voice came back. The voice was sounding deranged and distorted, so Adelynn could barely understand what the voice was saying. The voice said " You have 10 minutes left if you don't find the key you will stay here forever and that is a promise.". Autumn's body crawled. She ran across the cold, damp basement, searching for a way to get out. Like a key or something.

Her heart was racing so fast that it was impossible to not cry. She thought "I'm gonna die here in this house, just like everyone else before me and Sofia!". Adelynn immediately ran to the stairs. "HELP ME PLEASE!!". She ran towards the stairs, sprinting at full speed. It was there! She said "I got it!". The voice came back just as she said it. "You found it!" it said. I sounded happier, and less deranged and distorted. "Unlock the door and see who I am.". Adelynn ran to the door and unlocked the door. She got out and saw that no one was there. "I gotta find Sofia." she said. She felt breathing down her neck. Her head snapped behind her, but she saw the door wide open, something was on the stairs. All she saw was a monster sized snake. It had a human head, but a snake body, it looked like a python. Although Adelynn wanted to move, she just couldn't move at all. No matter what she tried to do, move or even try to make a sound, she just couldn't move a muscle. "Aw man, you found me. Now it's time for me to find you and your friend. Listen closely, because I'm not gonna repeat this. I'm going to count to 500, and I count super quick. Find your friend and a hiding spot before I find you.".

Sofia's Escape

Meanwhile with Sofia… she was still out, but she woke up not even a second later. She was shaken to her core, and not knowing what to do but just to hope that Addelyn got out of that dark basement and hope she saves her. She thought "What went wrong? What did I do wrong? I feel weak and pathetic. I know I have been bad but I have been a straight A student, I'm in the enrichment group, and I have been a very smart girl.". Then she started crying, but only out of anger " I'm not gonna see my family or my friends or Adelynn ever again.", she said. "I need to try one more time". She said, then she started using her teeth again. Her teeth ached, and her gums throbbed. "I gotta get out.". She had always thought that she could have everything at the palm of her hand. But it turns out that never happens. All the happy endings in stories that she used to read when she was five years old, she used to believe that stuff. But now, now that she was in that haunted house, in that moment she remembered her childhood. She remembered her parents, her dad, her cousins, and all of her friends and family. "Thank you for taking care of me, but I am probably going to stay here for another night if I can't find my way out. I love you mom, I love you dad, I love you Alexandra (her dog), I love you grandma and grandpa, please remember me, even when I'm gone."

Adelynn Is Here

Sofia was crying now. The first time she really just let out all of the fear, and frustration from inside of her. Just then Adelynn ran into the room. "Sofia!". Sofia started crying again. Adelynn ran to Sofia and took the ties off. Sofia hugged Adelynn knowing she was safe. "This time we will stay together.", Adelynn said. "Ok.", Sofia said. "I will never leave you again." Adelynn said. Sofia and Adelynn walked all around the room, staying together, searching for a door. They were starting to lose their minds, they were stuck in a room with no door even though Adelynn just burst through the door a couple of minutes ago. " God, this is insane.". Sofia said, " Did I NOT JUST BURST IN 10 MINUTES AGO!?" Adelynn said. "Please calm down Adelynn. Everything will be alright. Just please calm down.". Adelynn's face softened, realizing that the human snake could come back, and make sure that they never see the light of day again. Just then Sofia fell down from what looked like a hole in the floor that looked like it reached concrete but it was just something that broke when the house broke down. Sofia screamed, it was loud but it wasn't loud enough for any spirit in the house to hear. When Adelynn looked at the hole that Sofia fell in… she found out that Sofia broke her leg! Sofia said "I think I broke my leg… ". Adelynn said "Oh my god! Sofia! I can give you your bag and give you a cloth to wrap around your leg!". Adelynn threw the bag onto the floor, it wasn't near Sofia, but it was in her reach if she just pushed through the pain and get it. Just then Sofia heard a noise creeping behind Adelynn, it sounded like a snake or a python of some sort… but she felt like she had to stay quiet, just after she got quiet she heard someone or something talking "Hello, Adelynn… I found you". Adelynn screamed knowing that she was caught and that no one could save her because no one else was in the house and Sofia's leg was broken. Sofia watched in horror seeing that her best friend was being dragged. She heard her screams and couldn't do anything because of her broken leg. Then Adelynn's screams disappeared into the darkness above her.

This Is Bad

Just as Adelynn's screams disappeared above her, Sofia knew she had to get out of the haunted house, but on the other hand she had to save Adelynn. How will she save Adelynn even with a broken leg? Sofia was struck with an idea. An idea: try to heal her leg and try to save Adelynn. Sofia reached, and stretched, and pushed through the pain. Then… she heard a noise, talking or whispering. It sounded like "Please, Sofia and I will never come back, we promise. Just please let us go home or we can stay at a stranger's house. Just let us go.". That was Adelynn! She was nearby but where? "Where are you Adelynn? What was with you?". Sofia had to bandage her leg, but there was no bandage. There was only a cloth, "I have to use it, if I want to find Adelynn then this is what I have to use.". Sofia picked up the cloth and winced. Then she put the cloth on her leg, pain shot through her body faster than a Cheetah's speed and a Pronghorn's speed mixed together. Sofia winced and almost screamed from the pain. The cloth was a pink cloth, and that cloth was from her grandma and grandpa who had moved to Pennsylvania, that thread would have cost $1,000 because there was a rumor that the cloth was made out of actual rose gold (they found it themselves), and it was precious to Sofia. If she ever lost that pink "gold" cloth, then she would never forgive herself. If anyone found it then they would steal it or sell it at an auction filled with greedy people

Time To Find Adelynn

Sofia rushed out of the hole even though it felt like her leg was bleeding. The pain in her leg was hot, and it burned worse than fire. She ran to the room where she had heard Adelynn, and she saw the worst thing imaginable... Adelynn was limp on the floor. Sofia started bawling like never before. She was too late. She couldn't save Adelynn in time. "Hellooo, come join your friend!", she heard. Then she ran for her life before she would be like Adelynn. Who is gone now. She sprinted so fast that her heart couldn't take it for longer than 5 minutes. That snake was there chasing her at just 3 miles per hour behind her (She ran at 13 miles per hour).

Run For Your Life, Sofia

Sofia is sweating now. That snake was catching up with her, Sofia's leg was screaming, shouting, and Sofia's pain was eating her up.
"No, I have to get out of here.", Sofia thought. "Please, let me see another day in the sun. Let me see my family. I want to live to see the friends that I'm going to make in the future. Just please, let me live.".
It was a sad, sad, sad moment but... The snake caught her. The snake did the same thing to Sofia, just like she did to Adelynn. 1 week later, Sofia and Adelynn were on the news, both of them were declared missing by the police. My daughter was watching from above.

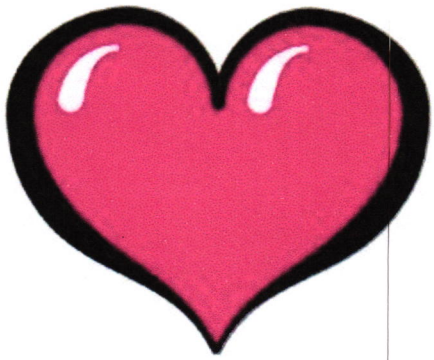

Epilogue

As I closed the book that I made myself, I started crying because I remembered that my daughter and her friend, Sofia and Adelynn were gone. All because of that house. That house devoured my Sofie and her best friend, Adelynn. They have known each other since they were babies. I am Sofia's mom Ms. Gerima. I am working with Adelynn's mom, Ms. Iripla. We will always be working everyday to find out how to destroy the haunted house, the spirits that live in there, and how to make sure that no one will go through what Sofia and Adelynn had to go through. Ms. Iripla and I always visit our daughters' graves. They are next to each other. Just like how they always stuck together their whole lives.

Note To Readers

I am so sorry if the ending was a little dark. Next time I promise I will try to make it less darker. I am really a sweet girl, I promise! I hope you (you guys, if there are multiple people reading this) enjoyed reading this!!!!!

HE CAN'T BE REAL!!!!

INTRO

My name is Dan. I have a friend named Henry and he is awesome but no one can see him except me! He always plays with me and even when I am in my room he is there! Lately my mother has been ignoring him and acting like she can't hear him! Even though no one can see him they should be able to hear him!

CHAPTER 1

When I went to school today Henry came with me even though I told him not to. When I got to school my teacher said " Who is your friend today Dan?" I said " Henry? No one is supposed to see him except me!" " I see him just fine," my teacher said. I turned around and looked at Henry and he was real! He's never been like this before! He can't be real! During history we were on the subject of graveyards and I perked up a bit because we were talking about ghosts and some of them summed up Henry! So I asked if I could go to the bathroom. But I'm not coming back.

CHAPTER 2

I went to a supply store first but they only had so many things so I bought a backpack, food, a fold up tent and a water bottle meant for camping. Then I also got a gps, then I went to the nearest graveyard and started investigating. I saw graves and it was kind of creepy so I said "I'm not scared" (well yelled it). Then all of a sudden a bunch of zombies/ghosts came out of the ground and started throwing bugs at me! I started to run for my life but then I heard one of the ghosts say " We can give you answers"!

CHAPTER 3

I talked with the ghosts/zombies for a while and they explained the whole thing. They said that Henry is dead but came back to life like they did but in a different way. He was a good student who got murdered by his enemy. He cannot be seen by anyone who does not believe he is there. He can only be seen by some one who believes he is there or his enemy's ancestors. "So my teacher must be one of his murderers ancestors because she never knew about him!" I said. The main ghost said "when someone other than you can see him that means he is alive again!"

CHAPTER 4

I went to do some more investigating by going to some other graveyards and each one I went to I found out more like who Henry's murderer was and how many descendants his murderer has (he already had 10 when he murdered Henry) and I also found out that he was engaged and that he was actually 20 years old and not 5. Then I had to track down his wife because he only died a few years ago. First I remembered that my mom said I could get ice cream after school, so I ran back to school just in time too. The doors were just opening to let the kids out. Then I left my clues and stuff at school and went to go get ice cream with my mom. The next day I went back to school and then used the same excuse that I used yesterday "can I use the restroom?" Then I went back to investigating. I found out that Henry is quite famous among the dead. I found out who his wife is and I thought no no no no no no!

CHAPTER 5

Henry's wife is my mother!! Dun dun dunn!! I rushed back home and questioned my mother. And she spilled everything! She knew who his murderer was and who and where his descendants were! I said "our lives could be in danger!" My mom said " but I love him, and I can't just murder him!" "I never said I was going to murder him! We want to stop him from getting murdered!" "Let's go!" said mom. We went place to place figuring out his secrets he kept hidden even from mom! One did catch our attention though. One ghost said" He is capable of anything. He is a superhuman!" That was the most secret, he even took that one to his grave!

CHAPTER 6

After we found out he was a superhuman, things got complicated. We had to go find Henry. When we found him he was so happy that he almost exploded. Then he told us why. He was so sad when he died because he could no longer live with my mom. Then he hugged my mom. Then he turned evil and tried to destroy us. I had to duck when he turned to a huge megamonster but when I did I saw a sword in his backpack. I grabbed it and stabbed him in the foot so that distracted him. When he was distracted I stabbed him in the chest so he shrank and almost died. Then me and my mom did CPR on him and he lived! But then he tried to escape so we tied him in the chair. Then we got the truth out of him. He had died then he had gone to every graveyard in a hundred miles and tried to make a home but it did not work! So he came back to live with my mom but then met me! So he made a plan to pretend to be my imaginary friend. Then all of this happened. My mom was so sad. She got him up and kissed him and then there was this blinding light. Henry looked different when it was over and he said" I am alive again! When someone truly loves someone who is dead then they will come alive again!" So we all lived together after that! But then there was an earthquake and a zombie came through the door.

The forgotten

Dr. Alistair Finch was a man obsessed with forgotten history. Not the grand narratives of kings and empires, but the small, mundane, and often tragic stories of the common person. His life's work was archiving these forgotten voices, digitizing brittle diaries, faded letters, and obscure recordings from before the digital age. He worked alone in a basement office of the city archives, surrounded by shelves of dusty boxes and the gentle hum of aging servers. The solitude never bothered him; he considered the past his only real company.

His latest acquisition was a peculiar collection from a recently deceased centenarian: hundreds of audio reels, each labeled only with a date and a nondescript location. The woman's family had told him she was a "collector of sounds," but offered no further explanation. The reels were an archival goldmine, a raw and unedited soundscape of a bygone era. Alistair set up his old-fashioned reel-to-reel player and began the tedious process of listening and cataloging.

At first, the recordings were exactly as expected. The faint clamor of a 1950s market, the murmur of a school playground, the soft rush of a train passing through a station. But as he progressed, a subtle shift occurred. A recording of a quiet suburban street from 1962 held an unnerving anomaly: a faint, almost imperceptible whispering under the normal ambient noise. It was a single, repeated syllable, like a secret shared with a microphone.

He isolated the track, adjusting the equalization, and what emerged sent a shiver down his spine. It was a child's voice, whispering the same word over and over: "Gone."

Dismissing it as a trick of his audio equipment, he moved on. But the whispers followed. On a reel from a 1970s bus depot, underneath the hiss of static and the rumbling of engines, was the same child's voice, whispering, "Found." On a tape from a 1980s public library, amid the rustle of turning pages and hushed coughs, it whispered, "Look."

Alistair became consumed. He worked through the night, barely sleeping, his fingers smudged with magnetic tape residue. The whispers were not just on the background noise anymore; they began to appear on the recordings themselves, as if a spectral child were present at each event. A wedding recording from 1958 was interrupted by a tiny, terrified voice whispering, "He's watching," right before the vows. A family birthday party in 1966 was marked by the child's desperate plea: "Help me."

He noticed a pattern. The whispers were strongest on recordings made in moments of profound joy or sorrow. It was as if the emotional energy of the event somehow gave the spectral child's voice a way to break through.

A week into his marathon, Alistair found the final reel. It was unlabeled, but the date scratched into the plastic casing was his own date of birth. His heart hammered in his chest. He threaded the tape, his hands shaking, and pressed play.

For a long time, there was nothing but silence. Then, a recording of a hospital room came to life. The hushed tones of nurses, the anxious breathing of a new mother. And then, a sound he knew intimately: the cry of a newborn baby. His own cry.

And in the background, a new, louder whisper, no longer the sound of a child, but of an old woman, raspy and dry as autumn leaves.

"He is here," the whisper said. "I left him for you."

The voice from the other tapes joined in, but it was no longer a child's whisper. It was deeper, filled with a malevolent glee, repeating a single, horrifying phrase: "He's watching. He's always watching."

Alistair slammed the stop button, scrambling to rip the tape from the machine. As he did, the speakers crackled with a final, echoing sound—a sound he recognized from his early hours in the archives, the faint rush of a train passing through a station.

But it was different now. The train wasn't just passing; it was arriving. And from the distant, ghostly sound of the train's whistle, he heard one last, final whisper.

"He's at the station now. He's coming for himself."

Alistair looked up from his desk. The windows of his basement office were level with the sidewalk, and the glass was now a swirling, shifting landscape of static, the image of a dimly lit train station visible within the distorted, ghostly chaos.

He was no longer alone in the archives. He was no longer just a collector of voices from the past. He had found something else, something that had been waiting for him since the day he was born, and it was finally, finally, home.

Prologue:

Two time had found a note written by someone he saw here and there. Two Time , read the note. The note said:

I, James just got in the cabin but a round had started in the dev team. He did not know what to do as he was just teased just the last day. The moveset was weird but he was just a test. As he got in a round with other devs he saw something a little too scary… A JASON MILESTONE 4! He knew he was cooked but just to know he's way too over powered so I don't know how this will play out. After a minute two people were back in the cabin. Oh god… how good are they??? Jason wasn't in the game anymore because he was replaced by slasher… anyway he knew he might be in lms(last man standing) he had a bloxy cola…. Lms just started. Until Jason came up kinda close he did not use the cola. But once he did he stunned the killer. He was unfair so the stun did 25 seconds long when it's supposed to do 5 seconds that round he survived. He saw everyone else in the cabin… chance… two Time…. 007n7…. Dusekkar. Even a swat officer standing with his flash bangs trying to help the survivors. Note from: James

Two groups of people, killers and survivors.(Hi I am the narrator for this Forsaken story about the groups, my name is BloxburgNewsReporterGuy, I will tell the story as your narrator.) The killer's goal is to kill the survivors. The survivors goal is to survive the killers. Enjoy a story of pure violents, core, and darkness. Let's get into it.

"Ugh, are you guys ready for the next match because, well im always" Chance said. "We all are, duh" Everyone said. They all just talked and stuff. Five minutes later the TV turned on "Get to the arena." They all walk to the arena. The killer of this match is the one who loves necks… Qu1nn 7331. Chance and Two Time go to the corner to gamble and do rituals. Noob does generators with Eliot. Guest 1337, well he went to the middle to hit Qu1nn 7331." It's your tern Qu1nn 7331" said Guest 1337. Then out of nowhere a sharp pane filled Guest 1337. Guest hits Qu1nn 7331 but Qu1nn 7331 steps on Guest 1337's back as Guest 1337 falls to the floor with a broken back. "Agen" said Qu1nn 7331 as he reached down for his neck; SNAP! He broke his neck leaving him there "One down, 7 more to go HAHAHA" said Qu1nn 7331.

"Hurry up, Qu1nn 7331 is coming." Said Chance, "Go on your own." Said Two Times. "Fine!" Qu1nn 7331 heard that as Chance books it out to Noob and Eliot. Qu1nn 7331 does not see him and grabs Two Time "AHAHA, your mine." CRACK! Neck brakes and falls to the floor. "AHAHAHAA! Neck, necks, necks." Said Qu1nn 7331 and ran off to get someone else. He runs to the nearest generation."We meat agen… Chance" Qu1nn 7331 lifts him in the air and decapitates him. "Who is next!" Qu1nn 7331 jumps out the window killing himself.

BEEERRR! The round ended. James runs out of the cabin trying to escape the torcher. Shledsky follows him. They run to the boat dock to swim to the other island. There is a helicopter there ready to take off. As we went to the edge of the boat we both knew that we had to do the same thing over again. But Shledsky saw that James was not up cutting Eliot and Noob's life apart "3 left" Qu1nn 7331 said. 007n7 jumps out of an ok. He knew h would be the killer next. Shledsky told James before he was killed that "it's ok for this to happen. I'm just glad to see you. Hope you do well next round …" Said Shledsky "NO!" James said "THERE WON'T BE A NEXT ROUND. I'M DONE WITH THIS MESS. I'M DONE WITH THIS LIFE." James jumped into the sea swimming to the next island. "James above you!" Shledsky said. James looked up in front of him; 1x1x1x1x flew down and hovered in front of the water. "James, do you know what you are doing?" 1x said in a deep voice "You will have to be exiled." Said 1x "1x, please no I… I…" 1x grabbed him by the throat and said "DIE!" "No, do not perish him, for he does not deserve it." Noli said. "I said put him down!" 1x drops him into the water "We do not kill people just like that!" While the two killers bicker James finds his way to the island. He boards the copter. Noli sees and yells "HEY, 1x BLOW IT UP!"

1x uses his mass infection and the copter crashed into the island. The copter exploded into bits of ash and mettle.

Two Time

Later, I found myself in the Forsaken Dev Team, Stuck, ready for a match I thought… Five minutes go by as more people enter the cabin. We have been brought here for one reason, survival. Another minute went by As more people were brought in, I talked to them and got to know some of the survivors. One person, Chance, a kind gambler, shared about how he kept getting 777; on the other hand, Shledsky, he was talking about his time as a pizza delivery guy. Then, there is me. Two Time. I believe in an afterlife so I think this will give me a chance at winning. 1 minute left till the match starts. There are 7 contestants today. As we were forced into the arena, I saw binary. 1s and 0s everywhere around him. Jon Doe. We were placed into our spots and the round began. Our goal is to survive and do generators. The killer has to kill us to win. We have been brought here just for entortanmint. But to us, survival. I walk around trying to find Jon Doe to back stab him. Suddenly I see big spikes in a row reeking of binary. When I saw Gust 1337 died. Blood gushing everywhere. Ahh! All fades to black. My life flashes before my eyes. And I'm back where I started.

"Chance! Jump!" I yelled but it was too late. He… was… murdered. I fell to my knees. Chance falls to the ground, I remember Jon Doe, it's not him doing it, it's his corruption. He's M3, one of the strongest milestones. Ahhh I feel a slash hit me right in the back. I ron in excruciating pane to Shledsky. Jon Doe follows but i turn and stab in the gut. The match is over. 4 people died in the match. But me, Two Time, Shledsky, and noob. We are survivors.

Jason

Here I am captured and brought to prison. I always listen to my mom. She guides me. I get called down to the front. They shoved me into a van and drove me off. My mom is in the front seat. I'm chained in. We arrive here in Forsaken as I'm put in another sell. They gear me up with knives and other weapons. I hear people walk in. My sales are basic. Stale bread and a stone bench. The round begins. Chanse runs across in the clearing winning 777; I follow him. I don't want to kill anyone but my mom tells me to. So I obey. I have more stamina than him so I am catching up. I whip out a katana but Guest 1337 hits me off my feet. They get away. I run till I spot a noob at the top of a building. I ran up but noob used a potion slate skin and jumped off. I jump off to; slate skin is heavy so noob is slow. It wears off. I grab him, turn him around and jap a blade up in him. I threw the knife and dropped him.

Elliot threw his pizza at me trying to get my attention. I look back and throw a machete at him. It gets stuck in his back but is still partially alive. My moms said “do it” on the speaker so I did. I run over and step on him pulling the machete out of his back. He has died. Dusekker was healing Chance, I sneaked over and grabbed Dusekker. I stabbed him through the neck. But before that he hit me in the face with his staff. 3 down, 4 to go. Sweat drips from my head. It wasn't swet, but blood. It was from Dusekker hitting my head. That won't stop me. But by then, the round ended. 3 less people here. I'm putting in my sell till the next match. Though i thought. The next match started but 1x1x1x1x was brought out, not me.

c00lkidd

Raised and grew up at 007n7. Ready for a game of Forsaken. “By 007n7. I'm on my own” I am c00lkidd. Ready for a game, please join me @ #Join Team c00lkidd Today. “Yay round is starting! Hi Ellit, have some pizza." My minions chase Elliot holding pizza boxes. SNAP! Elliot's head rolls toward my feet “Hehe, night night.” Chance a fellow gambler, he wins 777 all day long. “MY EYES! Get back here” I chased him around into a corner. I beat him up, blood gushed out of his mouth.”night night, ahaha, this is fun!” I spot Gest 1337 hiding next to 007n7. I ran over and threw a cinderblock at Gest 1337. I shove 007n7 away to get Gest 1337. He broke his arm from it. I dash over and beat him up. “007n7, your tern” I hide behind a corner and I summon my minions to kill him. I look back and there is pizza on the floor. “Ahh” 007n7 stabbed me as the timer ran out. I survie a lot but it still hurt.

“007n7!!!! It's you come!” but I was brought back to my sell. Jon Doe was giving off more binary than ever. M4. The survivors walk back but the ones I put to sleep aren't. I thought this was a game. I killed them!(This is all in his mind) Well we will see if they come out. “Ugh, i hate this sell” The next match there all died if Jon Doe comes out.

Chance

“Come on spade, i’m going to the casino to get a big 777 on the rigid slot, want to come? Oh, right you're a rabbit, well come on.” As I drive to the casino I spot the guy who is hunting me, I duck down so he does not see me. (Look at the lore of chance to understand more. I'll put the lore at the top next year so y'all can understand or go to the Forsaken Wiki.) I drive past with eez. CRASH! I hit the person in front of me. He stopped at a red light. I quickly backed up and drove off so i did not have to pay the money on him, ill just buy a new car. I get to the casino and find a slot no one was at. I started but someone grabbed me and pulled me back. They threw me into the back of the van. The van starts moving. I hear them talking about something called Forsaken. Then they laugh. The van comes to a sudden stop as they pull me out. They tape my mouth shut. I get thrown in a log cabin; the door slams shut as Two Time pulls the tap of. “Where are we?” I asked and Two times said “Forsaken.” More people come in not by choosing but by force. We are brought to the arena and pleased in our spot.

The round begins and I see binary and a corrupted body. Two Time does a ritual and tells me that it is Jon Doe M4 then he runs off. I follow when Jon Doe uses corrupted energy killing Two Time, no time to show motions, I ran by. My foot was grabbed and I fell to the ground. “Ahh” Jon Doe sliced my back open but Two Time back stabbed Jon Doe, I got enough time to get out Two Time was killed to save me. I found a ball pit and jumped inside. Someone pulled me out; “Two Time?” He said no time to explain and ran off, I followed and he did a generator, so I did too. All the generators have been fixed and Jon Doe lost. Two Time he told me he was M4. I have no clue what that means. (M4=Milstone 4) We walked back to the cabin and fed stale breaks and water. A small stake too. “Spade, Spade, noooooo!”

James:

“Hey Qu1nn 7331 help, it’s Guest 666” I said. “Coming” said Qu1nn 7331. Together we beat up Guest 1337. The next day at school he was not there, or the next. Day after day he did not come. Qu1nn 7331 was sick today I think so he will be here tomorrow. The next day Guest 666 killed Qu1nn 7331 on the sidewalk. “He will pay.” I said. I looked down and he wasn't the same, he looked different. I ran away. DINGGG the bell went. I went to see if Qu1nn 7331 was still there and now he’s gone! A van pulled up and kidnapped me. “MOM!” I yelled “HELP!” And that's how I'm here, in Forsaken. “This place has a cat and pezza, a free home.” But the other people weren't so excited, they told me it's a loop. You live, you die, and your back, agen and agen. The round started.

“Noob, is that you??” I said in shock “Yes, RUN!” Yelled Noob. I run, I don't know where to go so I follow behind. Then I saw Qu1nn 7331. How did he survive that, he has a crooked neck, twisted head. No time to think. Noob yells “COME ON!” We ran up the tower. We were too slow, Qu1nn 7331 snagged Noob and yelled “And now, this ends”. Qu1nn 7331 rips Noobs head of “Haha your next James” I jump down and run into Taph. “Move!” He throws a sub space mine. Qu1nn 7331 grabs it and throws it at Taph, I rump but it hits Taph; he explodes. “No no no, not me.” I said. He runs up to me, grabs me, shoving his claws into me back. I get thrown into Chance. “Hey, watch iiiiiiiit!” Qu1nn 7331 stomps on him, breaking his back and falling to the floor. He reaches down and grabs his neck. “Bye bye” Said Qu1nn 7331 snapping his neck. CRACK. I book it down the pit and land hard. Qu1nn 7331 jumps one. “AHHHH!” I scream, my back broke “Your mine now…” Qu1nn 7331 said. He grabs my neck and lifts me up into the air. I suffocate; he lifts me into the air and pulls me apart. At the end the game master brings everyone back to life. Life here is an infinite loop.

Veronica

As being a new reporter before making it into forsaken I'm sure this place is a nightmare. But now I'm a skater and I teach noob how to skate. He has been acting strange while teaching him like he is sad but i give him pockies and he feels better. If he gets hurt I help him get up but if he gets hurt badly then i call 911 but im sure that will never happen. Once seeing guest 666 because noob talked alot about him I was terrified as he jumped at me but before dodging and him chasing me I put up graffiti. So I could jump off the wall so I could run away from the guest 666. He went for Elliott. I have my graffiti ability not on cooldown so I used it on guest 666 and I burned his eyes. Hopefully I saved Elliot and now he's safe. We won the match. Were brought back. CREEAAK. A loud screeching sound.I made my escape! Blazing killers behind me! I jump. “AHHHHH!” an excruciating pane tears down my back. Blood, blood stained ground, red water. I grab my skateboard and hit Noli. 1x lunges, so does Guest 666. They crash into each other mid air. Slasher swings and misses. I call out, the others come. But Qu1nn 7331 thinks otherwise, bringing them back. I am Veronica.

The Red Wristband

By Trevek

A doctor was working at a hospital where colored bands identified patients. Green: alive. Red: deceased.

One night, the doctor was instructed to get a few supplies from the basement, and so he headed to the lift. The lift doors opened, and a patient was inside, minding her own business. Patients were allowed to roam around the hospital to stretch, especially those who had been admitted for a long time. The rule was to be back in their rooms before ten.

The doctor smiled at the patient before pressing the button for the basement. He found it unusual that the woman hadn't already pressed a button. He wondered if she was heading to the basement too.

The lift finally reached the floor, and the doors opened. In the distance, a man was limping towards the elevator, and in a panic, the doctor slammed the elevator button to close. It finally did, and the lift began to ascend back up, the doctor's heart pounding.

"Why did you do that? He was trying to use the lift," the woman asked, annoyed.

"Did you see his wrist?" the doctor asked. "It was red. He died last night. I would know because I did his surgery."

The woman lifted her wrist. He saw red. She smiled. "Like this one?"

Chapter 1: Jack's morning routine\Halloweentown

Long ago in a spooky, scary, spine-chilling, soul-taking town of Halloween, lived a pumpkin king who was really just a skeleton. It was just two days before Halloween and all the citizens were preparing for this special holiday they loved with all their hearts. In a very tall tower where the pumpkin king lived, a sign said"Jack Skellington's house, please knock!" At the very top was him, sleeping, snug like a slug. The alarm rang"Ding Dong!" repeatedly as Jack's head rose from his pillow slamming his hand on the alarm and yawning as he went down the jagged, long stairs. "Two more days till Halloween!" He said excitedly as he went to the clothing room to dress up in a very delicate black and white striped leggings and jacket. He put a bat bowtie on him and went back upstairs thinking about Halloween"How will I get things done if I have so much to do for Halloween?!" Jack said nervously as he took out a huge list that said:

Jack's plans for Halloween

- Get halloween clothing
- Decorate house
- Find Zero(My dog)
- Get Zero to decorate his bed
- Say hi to Sally
- Visit the Mayor
- Get candy for Lock, Barrel, and Shock

- Dress as Pumpkin King at midnight(only on Halloween)
- Explore the cave of Darkness
- (I don't have to do everything in order)

"Not a big of a deal, not that much, but the Cave of Darkness sounds very bad though, why would I even do such a thing?!" Jack was angrily nervous as he grabbed a really big bag of candy to give to Lock, Shock, and Barrel"Man these hooligans!" Jack was annoyed as he walked by Sally, who said"Oh Jack!! Come see what I made for you!!" "Not now Sally, I have other things to do before I see you!"Sally followed and touched Jack's shoulders. Jack scared Sally"Jack, why did you do that!?"Sally ran off before he could say anything. He found Zero following him as he walked over to the graveyard "No Zero, not now" Zero whined and flew off. Jack went to the very top of the graveyard singing(a poem song):

Oh why me, why me?
Is this who I could really be?
Scaring anything with a peek,
How can I be such a freak?
Are my talents gone?
Will my only world be gone?

Jack ran off to the cave of darkness, crying.

Chapter 2: Lock, Shock, & Barrel.

Lock, Shock, and Barrel ran along Jack's legs and Lock asked him"Did you get the candy for us yet?" Jack twitched his eyes, making the horrifying face he did when they kidnapped the Easter bunny instead of Santa(In the movie: Sandy Claws). They screamed and Shock said"What a bunch of idiots, you know he gives us candy on Halloween!" Jack awkwardly walk-ran as the three of the mischievous trick- or -treaters fought each other. As they stopped fighting, Lock said"Oh Jack, give us the candy!" They all ran to their home and found supplies to get Jack to give them the candy. They all found many sharp, dangerous supplies such as:

Hammer & nails
Clubs with thick spikes
Traps
Blood-sucking bats
Rope
Velcro
Fire ants
Hypnotizer
Popcorn and soda(For their entertainment)

Barrel felt ashamed for the other two trick-or-treaters trying to kill Jack just for candy ,so he said" Stop, will you guys ever have a good Halloween without Jack?" Lock and Shock nodded"Only for the candy" .Barrel growled and bit Shock's hat and slammed her to the ground, Shock said "What is wrong with you!?"Barrel was anxious to say anything, suddenly, Lock hit Barrel in the head with the hammer. Barrel passed out as blood was dripping from the back of his head. Shock was extremely mad at Lock"Why would you do that to him, he was a great brother!" Lock did not understand why so he made an excuse"I tried to save you, duh!" Shock slapped him down to the ground and pulled his shirt collar aggressively"Well, if Oogie Boogie was here right now, he would get you in big trouble!" Shock carried Barrel and put him in a recovery room(place where you sit there and die). Lock frowned and made a creepy, suspicious smile, then faded away. Shock was confused as she covered a blanket on Barrel, she walked away without saying a word.

Chapter 3: The cave of darkness/Barrel's death

Jack knocked on the door, at the treehouse of the three mischievous trick-or-treaters. "Nobody's home" Jack smiled"When you say that it makes it suspicious!" Shock opened the door and said"Come in! We need someone to take care of Barrel while I leave to go to the cave of darkness so I can get a cure for him." Jack was very surprised that Shock was going too"No,no,no,NO! I will be leaving with you!" Shock said"Why when I need you to take care of Barrel?" Jack had an idea"I know the right people." Later, Dr Finkelstein and Sally were making a special soup for Barrel. Barrel groaned and asked"Why am I here, what's going on?" Sally said"We are here to take care of you while Jack and your sister go to the cave of darkness." Barrel was fine with the answer and rolled over as Jack noticed a crack on his head that healed. He wondered how he got it, so he asked"How did this incident happen anyway, Shock?" Shock frowned angrily as she thought about Lock killing him"It's a long story." Jack tried to comfort her by asking why she was too upset to explain."Well, me,Lock, and Barrel are trying to get you to get us the candy..." Jack was a bit frustrated but stayed calm and said"Why did you want to get me to get you guys the candy?" Jack asked to let her talk more".. We like candy, duh!; then, Barrel really cared about you, he asked if we would have a good Halloween without you, then me and Lock said only for the candy. Then HE BIT MY HAT!!! It was so horrible, he slammed me down to the ground and Lock hit him with a hammer, he had a crack on his head, it was bleeding hard and I took him to the room he is in now. Oh it's all my fault, I should have never gone with them!!"

"Let's get to that cave now!!" Jack was worried about Barrel dying. Shock and him ran off to the cave. Hours later they arrived, they were relieved that Barrel had not died yet. Shock looked around and found Lock's mask. She noticed"He is going to make a very bad poison for Barrel, we must hurry!" Jack and her found a pair of dice as they ran"Meh, these are not even useful." Shock threw them away and Lock appeared. "Ahhhhhhhh!" Jack fainted down to the hard floor.

Once, on Halloween, a group of Elementary kids went trick or treating. One, was dressed up as a Ghostbuster. Another one was dressed up as Mario, and the other one was Luigi. They were brothers. They set out to get the most candy any kid got! So, they started roaming the neighborhood. The first house looked like a haunted house! Or so they thought. They knocked on the door. "Trick or treat!" They all said, waiting for candy. They waited. And waited. And waited! "Hm?" The ghostbuster said. "Where's our candy?" Mario and Luigi said. Since they wanted candy, they went inside. Once they went in the door was gone! "Are there any ghosts?" The ghostbuster said. "Because I'll bust them!" Nobody laughed, they just stared. "We are trapped!" Mario said, "You can't be making jokes like that!" "Sorry." The ghost buster said, awkwardly. They continued though the haunted house, The ghostbuster said, "Ahhhh! A ghost!" She used her "ghost trap" to trap the decoration. "Uhhh." Mario and Luigi said, "I don't think that that's a ghost..." "Ohh.." she said, "Oops! My bad!" She put the now-ripped decoration back where it was. They continued though the mansion. She did the same thing to even things that looked like ghosts! Then, a real ghost came up to them. "Hey! Get out! Or I-I'm g-going to, Uhh. Haunt you yeah haunt you!" The ghost said, clearly nervous. She softly placed down the ghost trap, and pressed a button to activate it. "Nooo! I-I Have a family! Leave me alone!-" The ghost said. Then it was sucked into the trap. She picked it up. "Ughh! How much has this thing been eating!" She said, struggling to pick it up. "What? How? It's a ghost!" Mario said. Luigi said, "How is that ghost eating? "What if we find slimer here? she said. "Clearly slimer is not real!" Said Luigi. "Now, let's find a exit! They found a window, uncovered, and unlocked. They tried to climb out but it was too high, so they looked around and found a ladder! "Ahhh! This thing is so heavy!" She said, struggling to lift the heavy ladder. After they got out, they never when to that house again, The end!

The creature in house 1313

By Amari

A long time ago, there lived two friends. Kyle and Emma always played pranks on house 1313. They never paid much attention to their pranks they played on house 1313. What a mistake those two children have made..It was always the same routine every day: go to school, meet up after school, go to house 1313, prank the house, then run off. But one day it all changed. The door to house 1313 was wide open. Silly kids, they went inside the dark and weird-smelling house…When they went inside, Kyle got scared because he had watched a scary movie the night before. He tried to run out of the house, but as he turned around, the door shut by itself and disappeared. When he turned around, Emma was no longer there, but in her place was a huge, scary monster. The monster whispered.. She's gone…Before the monster lunged at Kyle, Kyle closed his eyes, waiting for death to arrive..Then the monster dragged him to the kitchen and dropped him on the floor. When he opened his eyes, he saw Emma's lifeless body, and before Kyle could speak, the monster lunged and ripped Kyle apart piece by piece..And Emma and Kyle were never seen again..Never prank house 1313, and if the house door opens and you start smelling a bad smell, run as fast as you can or risk being its next target..And good luck to you if you have already pranked house 1313. Stay safe.

Three 'o' clock

Have you ever wondered what happens when you sleep-Or more specifically,at three o' clock?I can answer that for you. Some say.. That twelve 'o' clock is the witching hour,but the truth is that the real witching hour.. is three 'o' clock. What actually happens at this time, no one knows-and survived to tell the tale.

Some say that what happens is in the shadows,there are portals that lead to the monster realm. The monster realm was all gray and black. Monsters of all types lived there. There were werewolves who would creep around the dark and wait until you came up, then shape shift back into a wolf. Then they would bring you back to their den, where they would eat you in one bite.There were witches that give you a brew that would melt you into a stew,and shrivel your bones as if a twig.. Then snap!There are also goblins, and skeletons, and zombies, but the most terrifying of them all.. It was called Click. Now it doesn't sound very scary,but it actually has never been seen. Not by the monsters, not by the humans, not even the shadows themselves. The only way you would know it was there... was if you were about to be eaten by it. Obviously,

Now that you know what happens, at three o' clock,I am going to tell you a story of a girl that just barely survived the Click, but gave a sacrifice that you won't forget.

It all started when a girl named C.J,on Halloween night while she was trick-or-treating. She was trick-or-treating with her friends Mia, Ari, and Lea.The three girls had heard of a street where they had king-sized candy bars, and really cool decorations, so they decided to go there.. But little did they know, there were monsters lurking in the shadows of the houses because there were lots of people that they could eat there.

But, if you want to know this story.. Just know that it might be a little scary-so you have to be brave. They knew that they had to get there at the perfect time.. Because if you do,you get double the amount of candy you already get.

While they were on their way to the houses.. C.J heard a noise.Before I describe that noise.. That noise was a clicking sound.She and her friend had all made a circle and were shining their flashlights in all directions.Then the monster went away from the light, and back into the shadows. While the girls were trick-or-treating they kept on hearing that noise-they did the same exact thing:shine the flash lights. After about the fifth time of this, C.J decided to check it out. But she made a huge mistake, going alone. As soon as she stepped into the shadows, she heard a loud click. But now instead of a faint, twig-snapping click, it was a click like someone was cracking a bone. The next thing she remembered was that she was in a dimly lit room with only the colors gray,and black. In the back corner there was a little pile of snapped bones. She got up from the wet floor, and realised that she had hit her arm,and was bleeding really bad. She had started to walk over to the bookshelf when she noticed that there was a wisp in the shape of a person. She tip-toed over to it bringing her phone with her so she could take a picture, but as soon as she turned on her phone, she got knocked back into the ground by the wisp of smoke. The smoke monster had big long claws, ragged ripped wings, it hovered over the ground as if it were light as air, and had a big, wide smile filled with big sharp teeth sticking out of its mouth. What the Click didn't know was that C.J was not afraid, she was a surprisingly good fighter,and was very resourceful. What happened next.. The Click would have never been expected. C.J got up, brushed her clothes off,and ran straight at it. She had not run through the Click.. But stopped right in front of the Click, she knew that you can't hurt a ghost because it was not a solid thing. Instead of screaming for help, she began to dance. As soon as the Click had gotten out of focus C.J ran as fast as she could-which was quite fast because she was the star of the track team. But the Click was right behind her. It started to click as it rose up into the cold damp air as it came down it began to take a solid form. It started to close in on her and it expected for C.J to duck down low, like all of its other victims,but instead.. C.J decided to jump up into the now solid Click. It had killed the Click, but it also turned her into a ghost. Not a monster, but just a wisp of air, not needing to eat,or sleep, just air. Every Halloween night, she can see how her world is doing, but not interacting with anything whatsoever. Some say.. That she herself became the Click,but chose not to hurt anyone or anything.

Player 444

By Maggie

A long time ago, there was a person named Player 111, and he was looking for his soulmate. He found it when he looked at a door with a sign that read "Player 444." They were soulmates.

Player 111 was looking for Player 444 in his house. Somehow, Player 444's door didn't open. He tried to look through the window, but there was no window. He looked for his phone but realized he'd forgotten it.

Desperate to find his soulmate, he kept looking. Suddenly, he heard screaming from upstairs. He rushed upstairs and found a dead body. Then, he went down to the basement and found another dead body—it was his own! He was so scared.

He spotted a window, but he had no axe to break the glass. He searched for one in the basement and found an axe stuck in the dead body. He picked it up, disgusted, and then encountered a ghost. The ghost picked him up and threw him to the ground.

Using the axe, he broke out of Player 444's house. He found Player 444 and, in a whisper, said he (the ghost or the murderer) did this. Player 111 asked, "Who?" and then Player 444 was gone. Player 111 reported the place to the authorities and vowed never to go back to that place again.
