BULLDOG BOOKS

spotlights

Books that feature

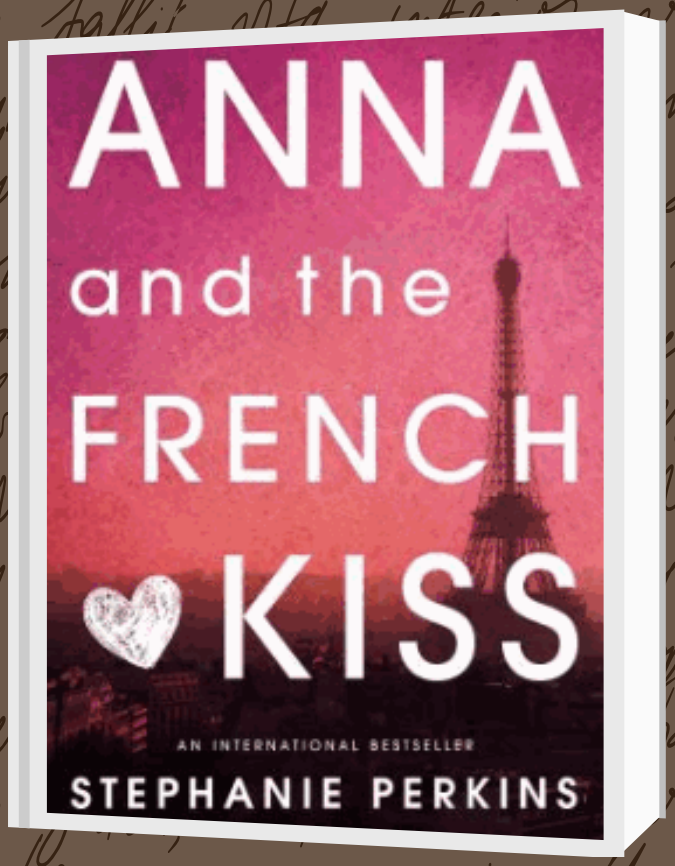

Diaries & Journals

The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian

by Sherman Alexie

Telling his story through journal entries and cartoons, Junior leaves his troubled school on thereservation to attend an all-white farm town school where the only other Indian is the school mascot.

Anna and the French Kiss

by Stephanie Perkins

When Anna's romance-novelist father sends her to an elite American boarding school in Paris for her senior year of high school, she meets a boy who becomes her best friend.

Gabi, A Girl in Pieces

by Isabel Quintero

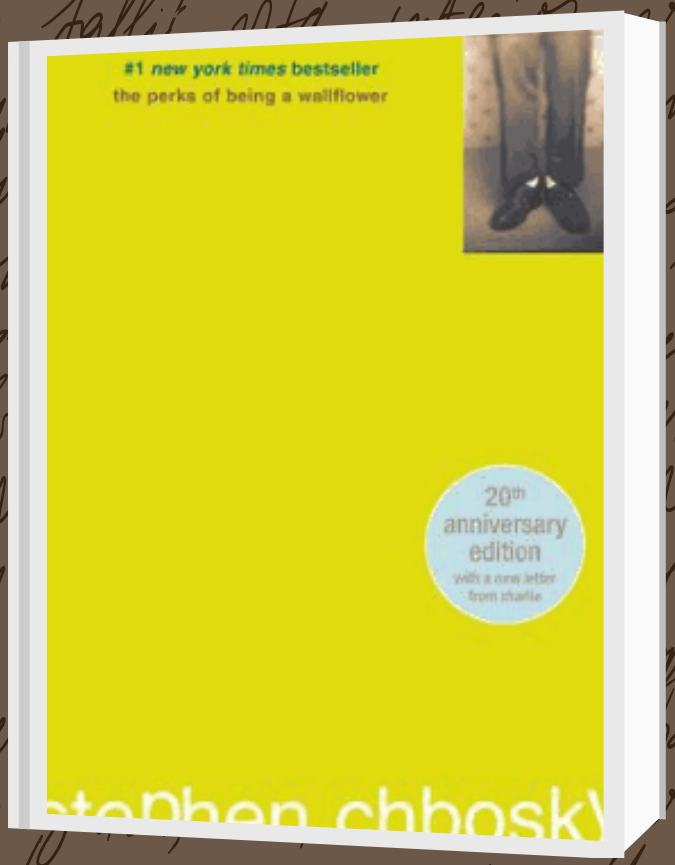

Gabi Hernandez chronicles her last year in high school in her diary: college applications, Cindy's pregnancy, Sebastian's coming out, the cute boys, her father's meth habit, and the food she craves.

Belzhar

by Meg Wolitzer

Jam, unable to cope with the loss of her boyfriend, is sent to a therapeutic boarding school where a journal-writing assignment for a mysterious English class transports her to a magical realm where she can be with Reeve again.

The Perks of Being a Wallflower

by Stephen Chobsky

Outsider Charlie writes, in graphic detail, about his freshman year in high school, his new, insightful, bohemian friends, his defiance of conformity, and his evolution into a man of action.