

Good Evening Rialto High School,

This is your Principal, Dr. Sweeney, with your Sunday phone call.

Guess what Rialto High, this week is Homecoming week! There will be spirit activities all week, the game on Thursday and our dance on Saturday. Tickets to the dance are $60 and are on sale until October 7th. The dance itself is on Saturday, October 10th from 7-10pm on campus and open to all grade levels.

Parents and students, this is the end of the quarter and that means progress reports will be sent out soon. Most teachers, if they allow late work, will not take it past this week.

Also students, if you did not receive a “c” or better in any of your past classes, “0” period credit recovery will be beginning on Tuesday, October 13th. You and your parents will be notified this week. Start waking up early because those classes begin at 7:15am.

Finally, again, parents and students you need to be at school, everyday, on time. You need to be in your seat at 8:40am so walk through our doors at 8:30. Also, if you need to make up an attendance there is a “Step Up” recovery on Saturday.

Sports for the week. Wednesday is girls volleyball versus Arroyo Valley. Thursday is the football homecoming game against Grand Terrace.

That’s all for the week, Rialto. Have a great week and remember our instructional focus is critical reading and writing across the curriculum and once a knight, always a knight.
