“

Through the internship program, I had resources at school that supported me in learning how to be a successful employee. In college, I thrive in my jobs and internships because I know how to ask for help when I need it and how to ask for more work when I'm ready for it. And, of course, I'm always reflecting on what works and doesn't work in the world of work.

“I was already interested in photography when I started my internship with an L.A.-based photographer/director. Being able to work in a professional setting as part of my school day gave me a strong professional foundation as well as a network I was able to take with me outside of internship hours. Once the internship ended the connection landed me a part time job assisting him and some other photographers who work in his office on some big shoots!”
