

Setting up the Roslyn Internet Portal on a Chromebook

1. Locate the Google Play Store app along the bottom bar of the Chromebook and open it

2. Once opened you will see the Windows app, click to open it

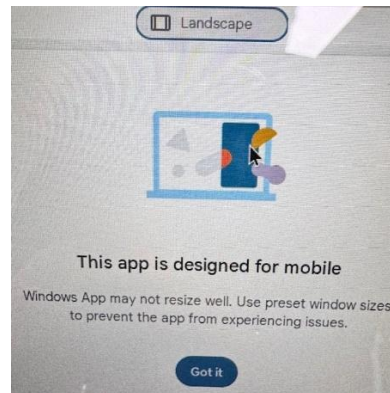

3. Choose Install to install the Windows app

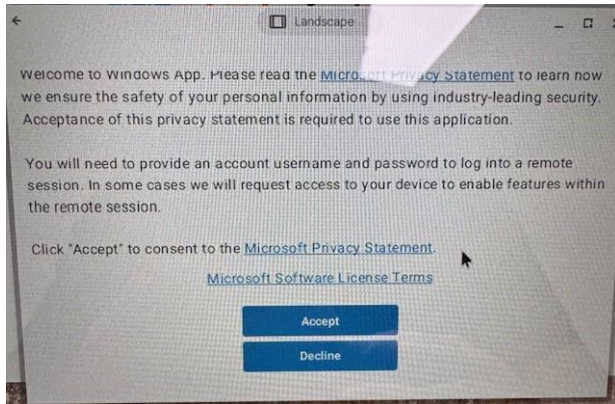

4. After it's done installing, choose Open

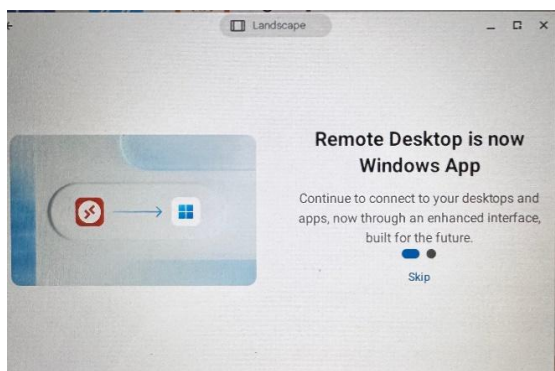

5. If you get the message that this app is designed for mobile just click 'Got it.' If not, move on to number 6

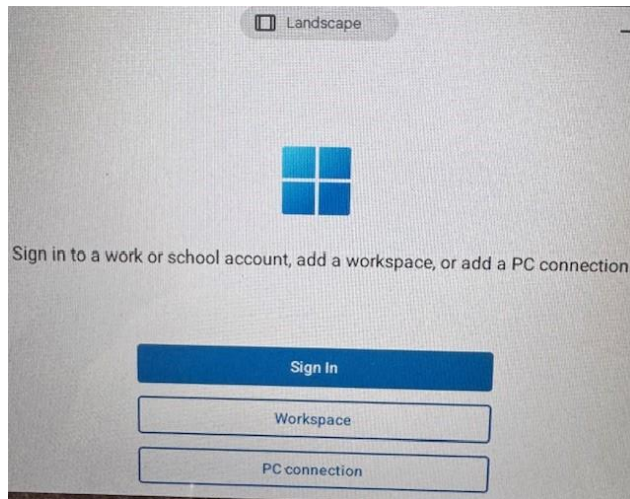

6. Click Accept (You may need to scroll down to see the Accept button)

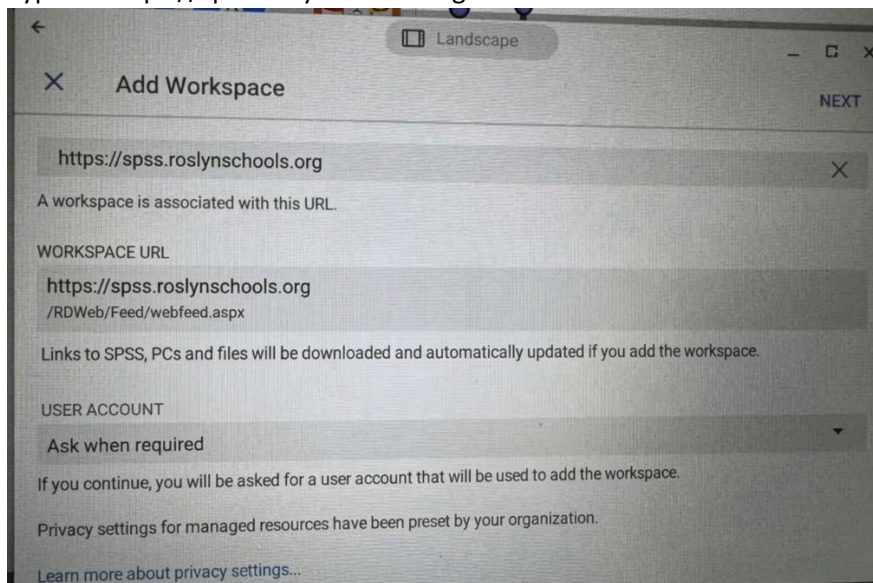

7. If you get the window that says Remote Desktop is now Windows App, just click 'Skip'

8. Click Workspace

9. Type in: <https://spss.roslynschools.org> and it should auto search and ultimately look like this:

10. Click the field where it says User Account and then choose Add user account
11. Enter in your Roslyn username in the format rosnet\username. For example for Jane Smith class of 2026 it would be rosnet\jsmith26 and then enter in your Roslyn password (NOT your Google password), then click Save. It should look similar to this:

← Landscape

✕ Add Workspace NEXT

Now click Next

12. You should now see the different applications available. I recommend clicking where it says 'Phone' at the top and changing the view to 'Resizable' at which point you can make the window larger. Or leave it as landscape for now and see how it looks. This can be changed at any time

13. Click on the app you'd like to open, for example IBM SPSS, and then put a check in the box next to 'Never ask again for connections to this PC,' then click Connect

14. Please be patient the first time you connect as it could take a few minutes to open SPSS. If prompted for your user name, type in your user name as rosnet\your username Example: rosnet\jsmith26
