LBUSD's Title VI Program

meet & greet

For Native American & Alaska Native Students and Their Families

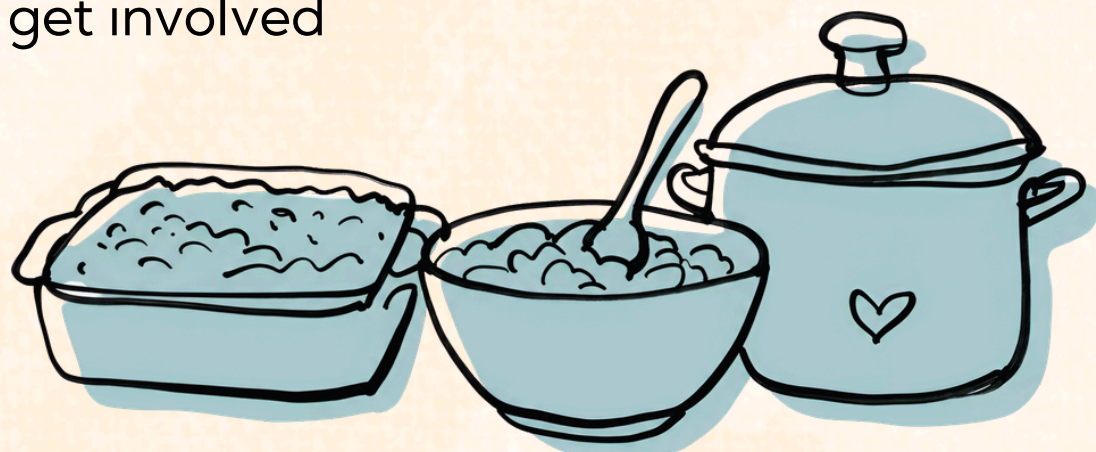

Come Connect. Build Community. Grow Together.

Whether you are new to the program or have been with us before, we would love to see you! Bring your family, invite another Native family, and help us grow our community.

Join us as we kick off a new school year and bring our Native American and Alaska Native families together!

This is a welcoming opportunity to:

- Meet and connect with other Native American and Alaska Native families
- Build relationships and strengthen our Native community
- Meet local Native community members
- Share stories, experiences, and traditions
- Learn more about the Title VI Program and ways to get involved

Community Potluck

Let's share a meal and connect with one another!
Please bring a store-bought dish to share.
The EONA Program will provide paper goods.

Cultural Activity with Becky Sanchez Yaqui, Mayo, & Mexican

Becky Sanchez is LBUSD's Ethnic Studies and History Coach and a part-time lecturer in American Indian Studies at CSULB.

In many Native communities, the concept of Seven Generations reminds us to honor those who came before us, make thoughtful choices in the present, and consider how our actions will affect future generations.

During this activity, students will create their own monarch butterfly as a symbol of what they want to carry forward for the generations to come.
