Elementary ESL Push-In Teacher

We are looking for a teacher who just doesn't want a classroom-they want to make an impact. You're right for this role if you believe that all students can succeed, you're hungry to grow in your practice, and you thrive in a highly collaborative, innovative, joyful environment focused on changing kids' lives for the better.

Our upper elementary teacher will:

- believe in 100% student success.
- approach teaching as a team effort, not a solo act.
- take ownership of results and adjust when students struggle.
- be open to feedback and drive to improve.
- Convey their passion for students' growth academically, socially, and emotionally.
- Obtain New Jersey (or another state's) ESL certification.
- Passionate about supporting special education students
- be ready to collaborate with our elementary reading and writing teachers to develop lessons that are engaging and allow every student to excel.

The skills our Lower School ESL push-in teacher needs are

- to deliver engaging lessons for all learners
- using data to drive decisions
- build strong relationships with students and families
- collaborates and is ready to be part of grade-level teams to create learning experiences and support students in our middle school's social and emotional growth
- shares best practices.
- Understands ESL teaching strategies and annual assessments
- Is ready to support students through developing lessons and materials to support their learning.

Application Process

We're hiring with urgency but not in a rush. Our process includes:

- A resume review
- A preliminary phone or Zoom interview
- A whole-day visit to LCCS to teach a demo lesson, observe lessons, meet colleagues, analyze student work, and participate in a formal group interview. We want you to know if we are the right fit for you just as much as we need to know that about you.

Salary Range based on experience and education $62,000-$87,000
