WELCOME TO PMNS DR.OLEKSY

Just recently PNMS hired a new principal, Dr. Oleksy. We've taken the opportunity to interview her to learn her perspective on things at our school.

Dr. Oleksy reports that the first week of school went a lot better and faster than she thought. Her goals for the future of the school year will be to collaborate with her teachers and to assist with student achievements. In choosing this job, she hopes to help middle school students thrive and be successful. When this happened, students can begin building their own road to happiness.

We also asked her how she usually resolves a conflict. She replied that she attempts to get both sides of the students' stories in order to construct a concise claim and then work from there.

Finally we asked what advice would she give to every students. Her reply was, "Work hard now, so you don't have to carry the burden later on."

When not at school Dr. Oleksy enjoys running and traveling to new places. At the moment she does not own any pets.

It has now been six weeks, and things are going smoothly. She hopes that PNMS students will remember her as being positive and happy to be on our campus.
