Action items

Complete these items to get maximum benefits from StrengthExplorer®

Below you'll find ideas for using your greatest talents. Talents are like muscles. When you exercise, your muscles grow and become stronger. In the same way, the more you use talents, the more they can help you develop strengths. You might want to make a check mark next to the suggestions that fit you best and simply ignore the ones that don't seem to fit you today. These items are here to get you started thinking about how to use your talents. You may have other ideas that suit you well. The important thing is that you select one suggestion to put into action right away and get started using your unique talents to develop strengths.
