Settling Into Your Dorm Room

- Kitchenette access: Dorm rooms have access to a kitchenette if you'd rather prepare your own food instead of using the meal plan.
- Wifi: Free wireless internet is available throughout the academic building and student residences.
- Prefer to stay in a hotel? Caronport has Airbnb options and The Pilgrim Inn. Both are a short walk from the seminary and offer a convenient choice if you're hosting family or wanting some extra quiet. Student discounts may apply.

Library & what to expect in class

Class Schedule

Most modular classes run 9:00am–5:00pm or 8:30am–4:30pm, Monday through Thursday, with a shorter day on Friday from 8:30am–noon. A few exceptions to keep in mind:

- Some Counselling courses begin on Sunday.
- Many MALTS residentials are three days long with follow-up practicums.

Because these are full, intensive days, students can find being in class from morning to late afternoon tiring. We'd encourage you not to plan on getting much additional coursework done in the evenings and instead, treat that time as a chance to rest and connect.

Some of our favourite ways students spend their evenings together:

- Coordinating a campfire or games night with classmates
- Heading into Moose Jaw as a group for dinner or coffee
- Simply relaxing in the residence lounge and getting to know the people you're learning alongside

The Archibald Library

The Archibald Library is the hub of research activity on campus and a relaxed, comfortable space to dig into course reading between class sessions. Its general collection exceeds 98,000 print volumes, covering the curriculum and research needs of high school, college, and seminary students alike.

Research resources: The library's databases combined provide access to roughly 15,800 online periodical titles, along with over 299,000 e-books. A dedicated reference collection (encyclopedias, commentaries, lexicons, concordances, Bible handbooks, and more) is also available for in-library use.

Study space: If you'd like a quiet, dedicated spot to work, the library offers 16 lockable study carrels that can be reserved for the duration of your stay, so you can leave your books and notes in place between sessions.

Need help? Reference staff are available to assist both residents and visiting students. Reach them at 306.801.4481/4698 or library@briercrest.ca.

Working from home before or after your modular week? Many of the library's databases and e-book collections remain accessible to off-campus students.

Just minutes from campus,
Moose Jaw is your home base for good food, essential services, or some adventure between classes.
