

Working with Your Child's IEP Team: Asking the "Right" Questions!

IEP meetings can be overwhelming, jargon-heavy, and stressful. Sometimes we focus more on what we are going to say, than what we could ask to better understand each other and develop solutions. The Right Question Formulation Technique (QFT) provides a structured, objective way to untangle complex emotions and focus on advocating for your child's needs.

Join us to:

- Learn the steps of the Question Formulation Technique
- Practice the steps
- Understand how to use the technique to prepare for meetings and other discussions!
