

FIT: A simple at-home test for colorectal cancer screening

Sign in to your online account at healthpartners.com to find a clinician. Or download the HealthPartners mobile app to search for care on your smartphone.

Regular colorectal cancer screenings are so important. They help catch cancer early, when treatment is most successful.

A fecal immunochemical test (FIT) is an annual stool test that looks for the presence of hidden blood in your stool, which can be a sign of a number of gastrointestinal disorders, including cancer. It's a noninvasive option and can be collected at home. A FIT can't diagnose colorectal cancer, but it can be an easy way to find out if you need further screening. Learn more at healthpartners.com/fit.

Make sure you're healthy for years to come. Colorectal cancer screenings are recommended starting at age 45. And most plans cover colorectal cancer screenings at 100%.* Don't delay, schedule today!

*If there is a difference between this general information and your plan documents, your plan documents will be used to determine your coverage.

The HealthPartners family of health plans is underwritten and/or administered by HealthPartners Inc., HealthPartners Insurance Company or HealthPartners Administrators, Inc. Fully insured Wisconsin plans are underwritten by HealthPartners Insurance Company. 25-3375001-3720202 (8/25) ©2025 HealthPartners