

WHAT SETS US APART

Teaching Differently

Skyuka Hall is an entire school built around students who learn differently. Teaching in different ways is woven into classrooms, assignments, and activities.

Our small student-teacher ratios give educators time to know each student, provide individualized attention, and adjust instruction as needs change.

Research-based, multisensory and multimodal instruction combines visual materials, direct instruction and modeling, hands-on activities, and movement. Students have different ways to engage with lessons and demonstrate what they know.

Each student has an individual learning profile identifying strengths, needs, accommodations, and strategies. Teachers monitor progress and adapt support as students grow.

Intervention

Our interventionists strengthen foundational skills and provide support where students need it.

Gifted and Enrichment Program

Our Gifted and Enrichment Program develops strengths and adds academic rigor for gifted learners and students who need enrichment.
