

The poster features a dark purple night sky background with a smiling crescent moon, several cartoon bats, and a film reel at the top. A large, glowing orange sign with a marquee border contains the event details. At the bottom, four children are seen from behind, sitting on a checkered blanket and watching the movie. To the left is a large striped bucket of popcorn, and to the right is a carved jack-o'-lantern. A signpost with an arrow points left towards the movie night.
