Dia de los Muertos

We celebrate to honor deceased family members and welcome their souls back for a joyful family reunion with flower petals. We also celebrate the dead of the living with a ofrenda.

NATIONAL STEM DAY!

National STEM Day is a designated annual observance that takes place every year on November 8th. It celebrates the fields of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.

National STEM Day was founded in 2015 by US toy manufacturer MGA Entertainment. It was designed to inspire and encourage children to pursue STEM subjects. The date is not a randomly chosen day, it is a play on words and sounds: “Nov8" is a numeronym, pronounced “innovate”.

Veterans Day is on November 11th

It marked the temporary end of fighting in World War I. The ceasefire began on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918.

NOVEMEBER POEMS

November

Orange pumpkins full and round...

Cornstalks gathered on the ground...

Blue skies clear and autumn-bright...

Harvest moons and frost at night...

Leaves raked high in great big piles...

November sights bring thankful smiles.

NOVEMBER

We saw leaves go to glory,
Then almost migratory
Go part way down the lane,
And then to end the story
Get beaten down and pasted
In one wild day of rain.

We heard "'Tis Over" roaring.
A year of leaves was wasted.
Oh, we make a boast of storing
Of saving and of keeping,
But only by ignoring
The waste of moments sleeping,
The waste of pleasure weeping,
By denying and ignoring
The waste of nations warring.

Robert Frost, 1938

LET YOUR ART BE SHOWN!

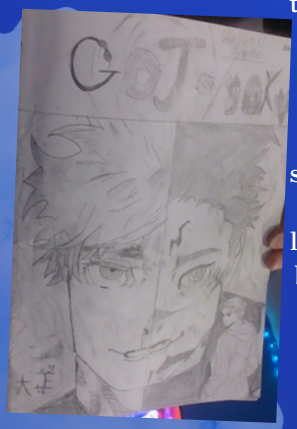

The art features vibrant colors with the text "UR DEAD MEAT!" in the drawing. The reason this art was featured was because it shows an amazing amount of vibrant colors and the art features the Hard Rock hotel. This drawing was made by Max A. who is in the 7th grade.

The art features a character by the name “Izuku Midoriya”. The reason this art was featured was because the drawing successfully tracks complex components of his character design, including his unruly, spiked hair, his costume's metallic collar/neck guard, and his reinforced punching gloves.. This drawing was made by Alivia S. who is in the 7th grade.

The art features two analog horrors in the drawing. The reason this art was featured was because the figure on the left relies on solid black ink with stark, floating white eyes. This heavy use of negative space mimics the eerie, compressed look of old VHS tapes or hidden entities caught in low-light broadcasts. This drawing was made by Jaretzi P. who is in the 7th grade.

The art features two characters, the one on the left having the name “Gojo” and the on on the right having the name “Sukana”. The reason this art was featured was because the drawing captures the signature traits of both characters flawlessly. Gojo's distinct spiky, light hair and detailed eye contrast beautifully against Sukuna's spike texture and forehead forehead markings/tattoos.. This drawing was made by Tiesho T. who is in the 7th grade.

The art features a character from the game “Dandys World” in the drawing that has the name “Bobette”. The reason this art is because the composition places the character against a soft, hand-drawn enviroment with a small star hanging like an ornament, creating a sens of exploring or narritave .This drawing was made by anonymous who is in the 7th grade.

The art features a character from the show “Haunted Hotel” and the character is named “Abaddon” The reason this art was featured was because the drawing captures the specific deadpan look of Jacob—the 18th-century colonial boy that the 10,000-year-old demon is permanently tethered to. The heavily hooded eyes and slight scowl are a perfect match for his perpetual boredom with Earth. This drawing was made by Jay P. who is in the 7th grade

The art features a character from the show “Monster High” and the character is named “Draculaura” The reason this art was featured was because the Independent illustrators often feature their own work in digital galleries, print catalogs, or turn them into physical products like acrylic keychains, prints, and stickers to sell at convention artist alleys or online marketplaces. This drawing was made by Sparrow E. who is in the 7th grade.
