1085 SECTARIANISM AND RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

The laws of the State of Nevada require that no public school funds shall in any way be used to promote sectarianism and no books or papers of a sectarian or denominational character to be used or introduced in any public school.

a. Songs and customs which have become commonly accepted in the American way of life, even though their origin may have been of a religious nature, are considered to be appropriate topics for our public educational system.

b. Teachers shall not promote sectarianism within the schools.

1090 SOLICITATIONS

1. No collections shall be taken in the public schools without express permission of the Board of Trustees and/or the Superintendent. However, occasionally announcements may be made for such organizations as the P.T.A., Boy and Girl Scouts, Little League baseball and basketball, or other Youth Recreational Organizations, as well as for the University of Nevada and for any state, city, or federal department.

2. Teachers may announce to pupils the purpose of approved charitable campaigns, and tell them where they may deposit their contributions. Collections may be made by the teacher for certain charitable organizations on a strictly voluntary basis by each teacher. No teacher can be compelled to participate or allow his/her class to participate in any fund drive campaign.

3. The principal may authorize written or printed announcements of a proper nature to be posted on the bulletin boards of schools.

4. Teachers shall not be solicited in the buildings or on the grounds for donations, subscriptions, or sales; but representatives of non-sectarian, charitable organizations, may present written or printed statements of their needs to the principals, who are authorized to deliver them to the teachers.
