Parent Expectations for Student Success

Parents, guardians, and families play a vital role in student success by modeling respect, supporting learning, and partnering with our schools.

How families can support student success:

Partnering with the School

Stay connected with your child's teachers and school, attend meetings when possible, communicate concerns early, and keep your contact information up to date.

Supporting Learning at Home

Support learning by encouraging your child to do their best, promoting regular attendance, and maintaining routines for homework, reading, and rest.

Being Respectful at School

Communicate respectfully, follow school procedures, and address concerns through appropriate channels.

Presenting Yourself for Success

Model success through appropriate appearance, positive behavior, and helping children come to school prepared.

Modeling Positive Behavior

Demonstrate respect, responsibility, honesty, kindness, and positive communication.

Keeping Everyone Safe

Follow safety procedures, respect staff directions, and help maintain a safe, healthy, and welcoming environment.

Behaviors That Are Not Allowed

Prohibited behaviors include threats, bullying, violence, weapons, disruptive conduct, property damage, unauthorized recording, inappropriate language, and failure to follow staff directions.
