COMMUNITY

The Anchorage School District spans almost 2,000 square miles while serving the educational needs of nearly 43,000 students via 130+ schools and programs within the Municipality of Anchorage.

The ASD student body is both economically and culturally diverse with minority students comprising of more than 50 percent of the student population; making it one of the most diverse school districts in the United States. According to the ASD English Language Learners Program, there are almost 100 different languages spoken in the student homes.

This diversity provides all students with the opportunity and ability to interact with peers from a variety of backgrounds. As the students prepare for adulthood in a global society, the exposure to and knowledge of other cultures is a key element.

ETHNIC DISTRIBUTION

Family Partnership Charter School serves a racially and ethnically diverse student population.

Family Partnership Correspondence School

Family Partnership Correspondence School began in 1997 with a mission to work in partnership with families, teachers, staff and community members to provide a nonsectarian individualized learning environment. This mission still holds strong today; fostering high achievement in both core and elective areas while preparing students for life-long success.

This customized education is completely parent directed to provide unique opportunities for the students in a school without walls.

Family Partnership Correspondence School includes grade levels K-12.

There were 1008 students enrolled for the 2024-2025 school year.

FACULTY

Members of the faculty at Family Partnership Correspondence School come from universities throughout the United States. Nine of our teachers hold Bachelors Degrees and nine of them hold Master Degrees.
