

COURSE WITHDRAWALS

Impact on Financial Aid

Course Withdrawal:

This applies to you if you choose to withdraw from one or more courses for the current academic term, but you will meet the two conditions below:

- you continue to be enrolled in at least one course during the term, and
- you complete at least one course during the term

Your financial aid will not be impacted for the current academic term. However, please be mindful of the following:

- You must maintain a 67% cumulative completion rate and meet the minimum cumulative GPA requirements to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirements and maintain your eligibility for financial aid. Please review the full SAP guidelines for additional information
 - $\text{Completion rate} = \frac{\text{Total Courses completed with a passing grade}}{\text{total courses attempted (all courses on your transcript, including transfer credits)}}$
- Federal Student Loan borrowers may have their eligibility adjusted for a future term.

University Withdrawal:

This applies to you if you choose to withdraw from all of your courses for the current academic term and you will not complete any coursework for the term.

Students who withdraw from all classes before completing more than 60% of an enrollment term will have their aid eligibility recalculated based on the percentage of the term completed.

- For example, if you withdraw after completing 30% of the term, you have earned only 30% of any Title IV aid received. The remaining 70% must be returned by the school. This policy applies to all students who withdraw, take a temporary leave of absence, or are expelled from Wingate University and receive financial aid from Title IV funds.
- Students are responsible for any portion of their institutional charges that are left outstanding after Title IV funds are returned. In addition, a recalculation of any state-funded grant (NC Need-Based Scholarship) is required if you fully withdraw from all classes before the 35% point of the term.

Stop by the Financial Aid Office in the Crowder Welcome Center before withdrawing from a course and we can help you understand the impact on you.
