Dear Families, Friends, and Staff in the Auburn School Department:

Open and ongoing communication with families is at the heart of our work and a key priority for the Auburn School Committee. As part of this commitment, Parent-Teacher Conferences will be held twice this year—once in the fall and once in the spring—for all students in grades PK–12.

This year, we have adjusted our conference schedule to provide additional opportunities for families and educators to connect. Tuesday, November 24, and Thursday, March 18, will be early release days for all PK–12 students, allowing additional time for afternoon and evening conferences.

Our conference dates are as follows:

Fall 2026 Conferences

- Wednesday, November 18: PK–6 Afternoon Conferences
- Tuesday, November 24: K–12 Early Release Day; Afternoon and Evening Conferences
- Wednesday, December 2: PK–6 Afternoon Conferences

Spring 2027 Conferences

- Wednesday, March 10: PK–6 Afternoon Conferences
- Thursday, March 18: K–12 Early Release Day; Afternoon and Evening Conferences
- Wednesday, March 24: PK–6 Afternoon Conferences

Parent-Teacher Conferences are an important opportunity to strengthen the partnership between home and school. In the fall, our focus is on building relationships, learning more about each student, and sharing their progress. In the spring, we look forward to celebrating student growth and achievements, discussing progress toward learning goals, and planning together for continued success.

We want to meet with every family! Your perspective is important, and these conversations help us better understand and support your child's learning experience.

Conferences may be held in person, via Zoom, or by telephone and will be scheduled through our ReachMyTeach communication tool. Families should look for additional information from their child's school about how to sign up for a conference.

Thank you for your continued partnership and commitment to your child's education. We look forward to connecting with you during our upcoming conferences and throughout the school year.

Sincerely,

Susan Dorris
