Skill 13.1

Vowel Team: Predictable Single Syllable

In small-group intervention, we will learn to read and spell single syllable words with a predictable vowel team pattern.

Vowel Team Syllable	A vowel team syllable is two or more letters, side by side, pronounced as one vowel sound. A vowel team may be pronounced with a short, long, or unique vowel sound.
Predictable Vowel Team	A vowel sound is considered predictable when it is commonly paired with a particular vowel team spelling, such as: • oa as in oat • igh as in night • ai as in mail • oi as in oil • au as in sauce • oe as in toe • ee as in eel • ay as in hay • oy as in boy • aw as in straw

stain	feed	vault	spoil
boy	clay	flight	bloat
green	soak	braid	ploy
chain	sight	speech	crawl hoist	sway	doe	roast

baby can crawl	out of sight ploy to win	will spoil if hoist the sail	will bloat if made a speech	trees sway in in a vault	doe kept a

© 2025 95 Percent Group LLC. All rights reserved.