Book Talk

Your students will be asked to present a "book talk" in front of the class the week of November 30th. They will be coming home with this book the week of November 16. Please have them practice fluency and accuracy by reading the book aloud to you. Please have them narrate to you periodically as they read aloud and ask them comprehension questions after the narration. Book talks should include the title, author and illustrator (if applicable), at least 3 interesting facts, 2-3 pictures to share and they should be able to give a summary of what they have read and a response to why others should read the book.

(All this information will also be coming home in an email 😊)
