Gratitude
NOVEMBER 2026

SAY IT:

Gratitude: Letting others know you see how they've helped you

KNOW IT:

ASK A GROWN-UP:

- Who are some people who have helped you the most in your life? How have you shown them gratitude over the years?
- What are specific ways you have shown gratitude to people other than simply telling them thank you?

ASK A KID:

- When is the last time you thanked your parents for helping you with your homework, or for buying you sports equipment, or for taking you to a movie, etc.?
- Who are three people who have helped you? How could you could show them gratitude?

SEE IT:

On YouTube, look up https://youtu.be/T-Shoem_iZg. This video is about Pharrell Williams, a successful singer-songwriter and producer and how he shows his gratitude to his alma mater and former teachers. Even though he is a celebrity and travels all over the world, he still makes it a priority to travel back to his hometown and thank the people who helped him get to where he is today.

BE IT:

Choose a day this month to visit your local police station or fire department and deliver a sweet treat, small gift or handmade thank you note to let those men and women know that you appreciate all they do to protect and serve your family and community.

NOVEMBER 2026

Kids will grow up to have a better future when three things happen:

- They make wise choices.
- They build strong relationships.
- They maximize their potential.

As parents, each age is a new opportunity to help develop these skills every month by having conversations about the Big Ideas learned at school. How does the Big Idea of kindness, for example, relate to getting along with siblings? Or prepare kids for college or a career?

So don't miss it. Conversations – both simple and meaningful – have a significant impact on the development of your kids' current and future self.

The SS4A project is a community initiative focused on improving roadway safety for all users, including students, parents, pedestrians, bicyclists, and drivers. Through this effort, we are collecting public input to identify traffic safety concerns, dangerous intersections, speeding issues, and opportunities for safer walking and biking routes throughout our community.

Help Child Find Locate Children with Disabilities

What Is Child Find?

Child Find is a statewide effort by the Alabama State Department of Education and the Department of Rehabilitation Services to locate, identify, and evaluate children with disabilities from birth to age 21.

How Does Child Find Work?

Early Intervention and Special Education Services work closely with community service agencies, parents, and local school systems to locate children with disabilities. A toll-free number is provided for parents or other persons interested in information about referring a child from birth to age 21.

Why Is Child Find Important?

It helps the child, the family, and the provider to plan appropriate services and link families to services for students meeting eligibility requirements in the following disability areas:

- Hearing Impairment
- Deaf-Blindness
- Intellectual Disability
- Multiple Disabilities
- Orthopedic Impairment
- Other Health Impairment
- Emotional Disability
- Speech and Language Impairment
- Visual Impairment
- Specific Learning Disabilities
- Autism
- Traumatic Brain Injury
- Developmental Delay
