LET'S EXPLORE!

Discover your personality traits and explore careers based off your interests and skills!

What is the RIASEC?

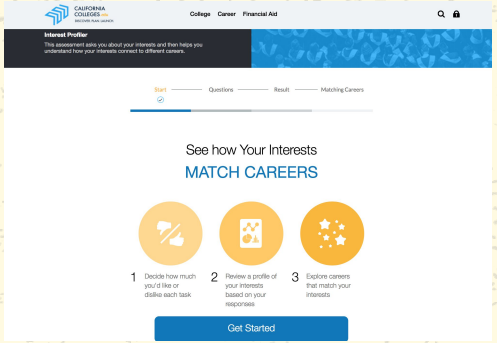

The RIASEC model, created by John Holland, sorts jobs into six groups based on what kind of personality traits people have. The groups are Realistic, Investigative, Artistic, Social, Enterprising, and Conventional.

REALISTIC	Prefers working with hands-on tools, machinery, animals or outdoors.
INVESTIGATIVE	Prefers analyzing, observing, and solving complex problems.
ARTISTIC	Prefers creative work (writing, music, art, and design).
SOCIAL	Prefers teaching, healing, coaching, and helping others.
ENTERPRISING	Prefers leading, influencing, and persuading people.
CONVENTIONAL	Prefers working with data, organizing information and following strict procedures.

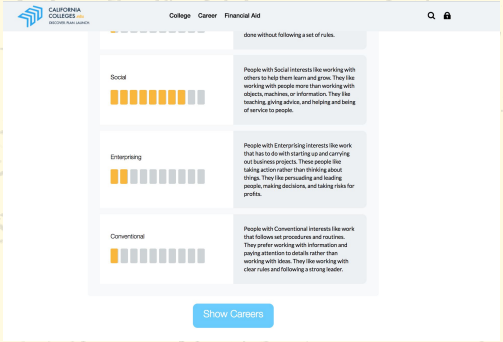

Every person is a mix of these different personality types!

CA Colleges Interest Profiler/RIASEC

- Go to californiacolleges.edu
- Use “Sign in with Google”
- Select “Career” at the top, then select “Interest Profiler”
- Take the career assessment:
  - For best results avoid “Unsure” and measure questions based on enjoyment
- Review your career match results

Explore Your RIASEC

1. Join the group that matches your TOP RIASEC type.

Realistic, Investigative, Artistic, Social, Enterprising, Conventional.

2. Write one insight/idea/or career match on your personality type's poster.

3. Rotate to your second RIASEC type, then your third RIASEC type and write one insight/idea/or career match on each poster.

4. Share your reflection with the class.

RIASEC Type
Realistic (doers)
What are typical strengths for this type?
Where do these strengths show up at school or in life?
What careers fit this type?
