Students ride in traffic before anyone teaches them how

Many students ride e-bikes and similar devices on the roads around our campuses, some without helmets.

TCHS accident, August 2026

A Timber Creek student on an electric scooter was struck by a car on the campus driveway. Keller ISD then posted handbook reminders and shared the Keller PD guide.

The gap

The handbook covers what is allowed. Nothing yet teaches students how to ride, or walk, safely. Fort Worth PD has no guide yet.

This is a student health issue

Injury prevention is health

- Young riders reach 20 mph or more in traffic without training
- Helmets are the single best protection against head injury

It's a health education gap

- Students take driver's education before they drive a car
- No one teaches them to ride an e-bike in traffic
- SHAC advises on health education

The district reaches every family

- Our district crosses several cities with different rules
- Schools are the one place that reaches every student rider

The ask

SHAC recommends the district make e-bike and pedestrian safety an approved safety education topic, delivered with local police partners, that campuses and PTAs can use.

What it could include

Police-led presentations

Keller PD and Fort Worth PD's School Resource unit

Semester family notice

What's legal, what isn't, and local helmet rules

Health or PE lesson

Helmets, traffic awareness, and device types

Helmets for all riders

Encouraged for every student, whatever the city rule

Longer term: make it a legislative priority

SHAC recommends adding student e-bike safety to the district's legislative priorities, through one of two paths:

LIKELY THE EASIER PATH

Regional change

Work with our area legislators on a change that applies to our region.

BIGGER LIFT

State-level change

Pursue changes to the student code of conduct at the state level, so the rules apply statewide.

The window is now: 90th Texas Legislature
