Watt's Going On?

An illuminating review from Interboro Education Foundation

Traveling Art Exhibit • Jessica Vasquez, Interboro High School
2025-2026 Mini Grant Highlight

Mrs. Vazquez provided a unique opportunity to examine three works of art by Salvador Dalí. The full-color, large-scale replica pieces were displayed in the Art hallway at the high school.

Students taking classes in the World Language Department were offered a variety of activities prior to viewing the art pieces - learning about the extremely unorthodox life of Salvador Dalí through readings and video clips, as well as art interpretation exercises to experience art through sight, sound and touch. When students visited the Traveling Art Display, they were invited to complete a scavenger hunt about Dalí trivia, work on a Seek and Find activity to spot certain objects in the art, and finish with a culminating reflection piece. There was also a great deal of opportunity for cross-curricular exploration, and colleagues from various departments were encouraged to take advantage of the display.

Happy Summer Vacation, Bucs! Wishing you a joyful holiday filled with laughter & fun. Enjoy every moment, stay safe, and soak up the sunshine!

Congrats on another successful year & best wishes to all the graduates!

which was held at Prospect Park School on May 7, 2026. NJHS inductees represent the values of Scholarship, Service, Leadership, Character, and Citizenship. Congratulations to these highly motivated and civic-minded students and to the School Counselors and Teachers who mentor them.

MEET AN IEF BOARD MEMBER

Joann McDougald, Recording Secretary

Joann is proud to have been part of Interboro for a long time: not only an alum herself (Class of 1991), but also a parent of two other Interboro graduates (Class of 2017 and 2020). She left her mark at the high school with 2 still unbeaten track records. While her children were at IHS, she was an active participant in their activities, including acting as the Marching Band Boosters Secretary, the IHS Theater Secretary and President, a member of the Home & School Association, and attending many trips as a parent chaperone. She returned to the district 6 years ago, this time as an employee, starting as the Administrative Assistant in Technology, and is currently a Payroll Specialist.
