3. PUBLIC HEARING:

   3.1 Charter School Petition Renewal: President Giannoni called the public hearing to order and requested public input relative to the one.Charter Charter School petition renewal, which has been submitted to the San Joaquin County Board of Education (SJCBOE) for approval.

   Governmental Relations and Community Partnerships Director Brandie Brunni reported that the San Joaquin County Board of Education (SJCBOE) received the one.Charter Charter School petition renewal on September 23, 2026. Ms. Brunni shared that one.Charter is a dependent charter and operates as a Designated Alternative Schools Accountability System (DASS) school. one.Charter is now seeking renewal. Pursuant to Education Code Section 47607(c)(7), DASS charter schools are subject to specific renewal criteria related to school performance on indicators and metrics relevant to the student population it serves. Unlike other charters, DASS schools are not assigned to the standard high, middle, or low categories used in charter renewal frameworks. Ms. Brunni shared that a committee of San Joaquin County Office of Education (SJCOE) staff will review the petition renewal using relevant performance indicators and alternative metrics used to evaluate a DASS school. The SJCOE will publish the recommendations 15 days prior to the November SJCBOE meeting. Ms. Brunni introduced one.Charter Director Jamie Ward.

Together, Ms. Ward, Director Phillip Kimble, Director Lonnie Cox, Coordinator Tony Damele, and Coordinator Todd Baker shared a presentation to the Board which highlighted on how they have grown, the progress they have made, and the opportunities available to their students. Their focus is the concept of .one. Together they are stronger.

Public comments were opened to those in support of and those in opposition to the one.Charter Charter School petition renewal, allowing three (3) minutes individually and 15 minutes collectively to speak.

Stephanie M.: I returned to CBK to earn my diploma. It is never too late to want better for yourself. After finishing, I joined SJCOE and discovered my passion for outreach. Everyone has their own story. They just need encouragement, support, and someone who believes in them. I know firsthand the difference a teacher can make. I would like to thank my supervisor, Jamie. Thank you, Troy, for listening to the voices of students, staff, and the community. I want to continue making a difference.

Ali G.: I have been teaching in the one.Program for 30 years. I am currently at CBK Lodi. I love working with adults. They come with a variety of challenging needs. I have the opportunity to meet these challenges and get them back on track. I had a student who immigrated here and is currently working in a district as a janitor. She was 60 years old with a bad hip, but wanted to continue her education. She took care of her family and gave up her dreams. She had an opportunity to attend CBK. During her time at CBK her husband passed away. Our team came together to help her in her time of need. Last Spring, she got her diploma and we all cheered for her. I am so proud to be part of these stories.

Tinka C.: I am a Career Readiness teacher preparing students for life after high school. I provide opportunities in the trades and healthcare. Students will soon start working on receiving their CPR certificate which requires 75 hours to graduate, so I wanted to provide opportunities for my students to earn those hours. They go to Montezuma to read to children and donate a book each month. It has been rewarding to see the students have an impact on my reading buddies. I want to thank my supervisor Jamie for providing these opportunities.

Marisela J.: I am a counselor for the one.Program. Every student has a story. Being able to support them and celebrate their accomplishments is rewarding. I build relationships to help them reach their goals such as completing a college application, taking them on a tour, or connecting them with a career developer. The most memorable experience is the CBK Fall Festival. Students come with their families to connect and spend time with one another. Our work goes beyond education. We support the entire family. We help them feel welcomed, valued, and supported. This reminds me why the work we do matters. Last year through the CBK pantry we served over 800 families who are experiencing food insecurities. Every student deserves to know their future is worth investing in. We meet students where they are and help them believe they can accomplish their goals. Sometimes the smallest act of support makes the biggest difference. I am happy to be a part of a program that does more than just educate. I am grateful to be a part of this program.

Alice G.: CBK has changed my life. Life got in the way of me earning my diploma, and years ago programs like this didn't exist. At 62 I got my chance to enroll and get my diploma. I learned it is a wonderful free program with flexible schedules and a great program for adults. Teachers help students push past challenges and reach their goal. I have been waiting my entire life to earn my diploma. After graduation I applied for a clerk typist at SJCOE. Not long after, I started working at a CBK site. Now I am 66. The program didn't just help me earn my diploma; it helped me have a meaningful career where I help people who were once in my shoes. I want them to see they can reach their goals, too. Thank you CBK for giving me the opportunity. It proved to me it is never too late to chase that goal.

There being no further comments, President Giannoni closed the public hearing.
